COAL CUT ORDERED ON ILLINOIS COAL TO ST. LOUIS; EFFECT JUNE 28

C. C. Decision Provides for Bridge Differential of Not More Than 25 Cents a Ton.

TO MEAN SAVING OF $500,000 ANNUALLY

Difference of Price in City
With That in East St.
Louis to Be Less by Terms of Ruling.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 24.—A decision in freight rates in Illinois coal shipped to St. Louis was ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission, effective
June 28.

In its order the Commission also instructed the railroads to charge
only 25 cents less for coal shipped from Illinois mines to East St.
Louis than for coal shipped to St.
Louis.

Belleville Rate 12 Cents Less.
The new rate on coal from the Belleville district is $1.04 cents a ton as compared with the old rate
of $1.16.

For coal shipped from Southern Illinois mines the new rate is $1.20.
The old rate was $1.32 1/2.
In round numbers, about 5,500-6,000 tons of coal are shipped annually to St. Louis from Southern Illinois fields. The saving in freight rates under the Interstate Commerce Commission decision will be in the neighborhood of $500,000
and presumably will be passed on to consumers, at least to wholesale buyers.

Return to Old Differential.
The setting of the 25-cent differential marks a return to the differential in effect before the Illinois Commerce Commission set new intrastate rates for coal in February, 1925. The State Commission reduced rates for coal shipped within the borders of the state, so that for coal shipped from the so-called "Belleville inner circle" to East St. Louis the differential was 46 cents.

The Interstate Commerce Commission was invoked by the railroads, who contended the State commission had no authority to reduce rates. The St. Louis Chamber of Commerce and other organizations joined in the plea for a reduction of the differential and asked for a reduction in rates.

Chamber of Commerce Started
Fight in October, 1926.
The fight of the railroads on the high differential and of the chamber of commerce for lower rates were launched in October, 1926, in a series of Interstate Commerce Commission hearings at Hollywood.

At that time the Illinois Commerce Commission had set 70 cents
as the rate from the "inner circle"
to East St. Louis. The Interstate Commerce Commission rate between Belleville and St. Louis was $1.16, so that the differential, under those conditions, was 46 cents.
From the "outer circle," which meant Belleville mines beyond a 10-mile radius of St. Louis, the rate to St. Louis was set by the State commission at 80 cents, so that the differential was 36 cents. The differential between the State rate to East St. Louis and the Federal rate to St. Louis from Southern Illinois mines was 32 cents.

Sought 10-Cent Differential.
Prior to the institution of the new rates, the differential was 25 cents. The Chamber of Commerce contended before the commission
that it should be 10 cents.
Applying the 25-cent differential
to the new rates, the rate for coal
from Belleville to East St. Louis will be 71 cents a ton, nine cents
more than the old "inner circle"
rate as fixed by the Illinois Commerce Commission, and one cent
more than the old "outer circle"
rate.

Today's ruling terminates a question that has been before the Interstate Commerce Commission indefinitely since 1912, when the differential between East St. Louis and St. Louis, or so-called "arbitrary" for hauling coal over the railroad and through the St. Louis area was 20 cents a ton, and the number of Commerce protested.

Clearing of Union Station Plaza Site to Begin in November

Wrecking Ordered by Service Board Which Also Calls for Partial Report on Necessary Widening Work.

Work of razing buildings on the site of Union Station Plaza will be started by November, under an order
by the Board of Public Service
today, calling for a partial report on this section of the Market street widening project.

Following this, the board ordered a second partial report to cover the widening between Eleventh street and Twelfth boulevard and between Fifteenth and Eighteenth streets, the intervening stretch being covered in the pending Memorial Plaza condemnation. Time for razing structures in this section has not been set.

Union Station Plaza will cover
the two city blocks bounded by Eighteenth, Twentieth, Market and Chestnut streets. The widening east to Eleventh street will tie the two plazas together.

Condemnation commissioners have completed their task of fixing damages and benefits all the way from Third street to Vandewater avenue, but it will be at least six months before city stenographers can write up their report to file in court. The report on the station plaza alone can be ready
by June 1, after which property owners there must be given a reasonable time in which to vacate.

Damages for the plaza site are fixed at $2,408,875, which can be met immediately from a $2,600,000
bond issue item, leaving $191,125
for improving this open space opposite Union Station if such use of the balance is legal. Damages for the whole Market street project amount to more than $6,000,000
and the city does not have funds available at present to pay this total into court, although it will have eventually.

Official forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Partly cloudy tonight
and tomorrow;
not much change
in temperature.
Missouri: Partly
cloudy tonight
and tomorrow;

ESTATE OF $829,000 LEFT
BY THEOPHILUS CONZELMAN

Widow and Six Children of Capitalist Who Died March 10 to Share Property.

Theophilus Conzelman, capitalist, who died March 10, left an estate valued at $829,000, according to the inventory filed in Probate Court today by Robert M. Zeppen-feld, attorney for the estate.

Real estate included is appraised
at $251,280, including the family residence at 5209 Washington boulevard. The largest item is property at 412 North Broadway occupied by a woman's apparel store, valued at $105,000. Stocks are valued at $568,587, many of the shares being in real estate-holding companies. Other items of personal property include: Bonds, $6500; cash, $1500; notes, $1039,
and chattels, $1023.

Conzelman bequeathed his estate
in equal parts to his widow and executrix, Mrs. Jane Good Conzelman, and six children, William L.
Conzelman, Emerson L. Conzelman, James Conzelman, Miss Jane Conzelman, Miss Petrea Conzel-
man and Mrs. Robert C. Duncan.

EXCHANGE SEAT COLLATERAL

New York Organization Adopts
New Rule for Purchasers.

NEW YORK, April 24.—A new ruling by the Stock Exchange disclosed today, has given its valuable memberships a definite standing as collateral. Under a "subordination agreement" recently reached,
a purchaser of an Exchange seat may grant a lien against it to cover
such amount as he has borrowed to make the purchase.

By the old rule only the pur-chaser's personal note could be given for borrowed funds, and no
lien could be taken against memberships.

GOATS SUPPLANT MOWERS

Oklahoma Oil Company Uses Them
on Grass to Cut Fire Hazards.

PONCA CITY, Ok., April 24.—
The moving machine used to mow business lawns below here commonly when a big oil company decided to use goats to keep the grass down on its 160-acre tan-farm.

There are on the farm more than 100 tanks, holding about 14-000,000 gallons of crude oil and gasoline, and strict precautions against fire are necessary. As goats do not play with fire, they won't touch the contract on the grounds of safety and economy.

tion's Activities.

JOINT COMMITTEE
CONDUCTS LOBBY

Insult Group Its Chief Backer — Lenroot Got $20,000 for Fighting
Walsh Resolution.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 24.—The expenditures of the Joint Commission of National Utilities Associations were inquired into today by the Federal Trade Commission, which by direction of the Senate, is investigating the financing of power companies.

Payment of $20,000 to former Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, who appeared as counsel before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee in opposition to the Walsh resolution which authorized the inquiry, was testified to by Ira L.
Grisham of New York, assistant director of the joint committee.

The witness said that $10,000
was paid Lenroot last year and a subsequent payment of $10,000
was made March 16, 1928.

Under questioning by Robert E.
Healy, chief counsel, and Commissioner Edgar A. McCulloch, Grish-
am testified that the joint committee, which was originally organized in 1921 had been reorganized June 1, 1927, and within a few months had collected more than $400,000, established an office in Washington and increased its personnel and activities.

He opposed government or municipal ownership of utilities, and testified that the committee is making a study of the electric light industry, and is maintaining throughout the country a large public utility concern.

The list of contributing concerns
is headed by the Insult interests of Chicago with $81,750. The second largest contributor is the Electric Light Association, the American Electric Railway Association and the American Gas Association, all of which are contributing $25,000 each.

Payments to Writers.
The witness also told of payments of $7500 to Richard Washburn Child, former United States Ambassador to Italy, of advancing $5000 to Ernest Greenwood, author of a public utility book, and payments to J. Barton Campbell, a Washington newspaper man.

The payment to Child, it was said,
was in connection with a book he wrote. While it was not brought out on the stand, it was said afterward that Campbell had been engaged to look out for data and information for the committee. His payments were listed at $150 a month.

G. H. Francis of New York, advisor to the National Electric Light Association and the joint committee, testified that a special fund was used by his association to finance research work in the electric industry. He said that the fund was used to finance the work of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the University of Michigan and Northwestern University. In addition, expenses of professors to various meetings,
conferences and campaigns were paid
from this special fund, the witness said.

Women's Clubs Got $30,000.
Francis denied he knew that any other special fund was handled by the National Electric Light Association for any other purpose than
for the general expenses, publicity, advertising, educational and incidental purposes. He did testify,
however, that the General Federation of Women's Clubs received $30,000 in 1926 from the association, but he said he did not know
for what purpose.

Numerous other associations,
testimony which was listed as recipients of money from the National Electric Light Association.
It was brought out that the expenditures for the present fiscal year will amount to $1,144,236,
more than $100,000 of which is to be spent for public relations purposes while $237,000 is to be returned to the 12 geographical divisions of the organization.

HOUSE PASSES SENATE FLOOD CONTROL MEASURE

By Vote of 254 to 91, Bill Is Sent to Conference After Sharp Fight—Several Amendments Adopted.

FOR APPROPRIATION
OF $325,000,000

Confusion in Congress as to Whether Revisions Have Met Objections of President.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 24.—The Senate flood control bill was passed today by the House.

Before it can be sent to President Coolidge, it must be considered in conference between House and Senate in order that the two
would shoulder the entire cost
of the Mississippi River by the construction of levees, spillways
and floodways. With the exception
of states providing the levee rights
of way on the Mississippi River
proper, the Federal Government
would shoulder the entire cost,
leaving the fate of the bill problematic.

Fate of Bill Problematic.
At the outset of House consideration, administration leaders predicted a veto for the measure, but as many amendments were adopted, the bill's fate was left problematic.

The measure would authorize an appropriation of $325,000,000 for controlling the turbulent floodwaters of the Mississippi River by the construction of levees, spillways
and floodways. With the exception
of states providing the levee rights
of way on the Mississippi River
proper, the Federal Government
would shoulder the entire cost,
leaving the fate of the bill prob-
lematic.

By a vote of 206 to 139, the House first refused to substitute
the Tilton flood control bill for the measure.

Another proposal was an amendment to divide one-sixth by the Federal Government, one-sixth by the State of California and two-thirds by local interests.

Under the amendment, the Federal Government would contribute $17,600,000 to the California project.

With a series of unexpected developments injected into the discussion, the House today
rapidly approached a final vote
on the Senate flood control bill.

At the outset of the day's consideration, Chairman Madden of the Appropriations Committee gave the House a surprise by announcing that, after a conference with the President, he now was prepared to support the bill which less than 24 hours before he had denounced in heated terms.

However, at the time Madden was making the statement in the House
chamber, it was disclosed that Mr.
Coolidge still was not satisfied with provisions of the bill dealing with the compensation of persons owning property in the flood area.

What Stewart Testified As to Continental, Feb. 2

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 24.—

ROBERT W. STEWART, who admitted today before the Senate Teapot Dome Committee that he received one-fourth of the Liberty Bonds purchased with the profits of the Continental Trading Co., was before the same committee last Feb. 2.
On that occasion the following questions were put and answers given:

Senator Walsh—I suppose
you have heard that the profits of the Continental Trading Co. were invested in Liberty Bonds, part of which have been traced to former Secretary Fall?

Stewart—I do not know whether any have been traced
to Secretary Fall and do not know anything about the bonds. I never had anything to do with the distribution of any of the bonds.

Senator Walsh—What if anything, do you know about any of the bonds purchased by the Continental Trading Co.?

Stewart—I never had anything to do with the Continental Trading Co.'s distribution of any bonds.

Senator Walsh—That is not answer to the question.

Stewart—I think it is.

Stewart Walsh—The question is what do you know about them?

Stewart—I don't know anything about it.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, today disclosed himself
as the mysterious and long-sought
"fourth partner" in the profits of the Continental Trading Co. From the same $3,050,000 jackpot which supplied the $235,000 in Liberty bonds which Harry Sinclair gave Albert B. Fall after the lease on Teapot Dome, Stewart received $759,000 in bonds, which he placed at once in a secret trust fund and kept them there until after Sinclair had been acquitted last Saturday.

Stewart, who testified before the Senate Teapot Dome Committee on Feb. 2 that he "never knew anything about the bonds" and "never had anything to do with the distribution of the bonds," came before the same committee today and admitted that $759,000 worth of them were delivered to him personally in 1922 and 1923 by H. S.
Asler, the dummy president of the Continental.

Members of the committee, treating Stewart with surprising tenderness, did not ask him at the morning session to reconcile his previous testimony with the facts
he disclosed today.

Stewart said he accepted the bonds because he "didn't want to stir up any trouble," but that he never intended to benefit from them personally and did not disclose them.

Considering that he was not entitled to a share of the profits—
part of which were made at the expense of his own stockholders—Stewart said that the bonds infact in a secret trust fund, about which only himself and two other men knew.

Following the verdict in the Sinclair trial last Saturday, he said,
he called the directors of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana into a meeting, told them the story, and surrendered the bonds to their disposition.

After a discussion, the directors decided that all the bonds should go to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Co., which is jointly owned by the Standard and Sinclair. They were turned over to that company immediately, he said.

Under questioning, he admitted that since December, 1922, when the Senate investigation of the Teapot Dome lease began to get "hot,"
he had refrained from clipping and cashing any of the coupons, because he desired to "avoid publicity." He was not required to explain further. The cashing of the coupons, of course, might have led to the discovery of the Standard's illegitimate deal and the corrupting of Fall by Sinclair.

Contempt Indictment Stands.
Stewart is under indictment for contempt, as a result of his refusal to answer two questions which the committee put to him on his last appearance. He is also the technical prisoner of the Senate, pending his willingness to answer. During his appearance today, he asked
and received permission to answer
both questions, and this will result in the dismissal of the attachment against him.

However, the prosecution for contempt will not be affected by his decision to answer. Senator

WILKINS PLANS FLIGHT ACROSS SOUTH POLE AREA

Explorer Indicates He Will Retain Eielson Who Took Him Over North Arctic Region, as Pilot.

PREPARING TO START NEXT SEPTEMBER

Captain Unlikely to Leave Spitzbergen Before Middle of May — Plane Ice-bound.

By the Associated Press.

GREEN HARBOR, Spitzbergen, April 24.—Capt. George H. Wilkins, scarcely landed from his great feat of flying across the top of the world by airplane, already is planning a new air venture, this time over the Antarctic at the south end of the world.

The Captain has received a telegraphic offer from Commander Richard E. Byrd, who also is planning an Antarctic expedition, to buy the Wilkins polar plane for the Commander's South Polar trip. But Wilkins replied he was unable to accept the offer, as he is planning a South Polar expedition.

He plans to start on his new venture as soon as possible, probably at the beginning of September, and has roughly drawn up a program for the projected exploration. Beyond this he refuses to give out any information.

Wants Eielson as Pilot. He said, however, that with such an excellent airplane as that which carried him and Lieut. Carl B. Eielson across the polar region from Point Barrow, and with such a glorious pilot as Eielson, he entertained the best hope of success.

Wilkins said he felt very comfortable at Green Harbor and expressed astonishment that he had found here regular comfortable Norwegian houses. As soon as he gets time he will construct a snow hut like a bee hive to demonstrate the dwellings as they are at Point Barrow.

Among congratulations which Commander Wilkins has received is a telegram from King Haakon of Norway. An expedition from Long Year City, which is in Spitzbergen, has arrived here bringing the congratulations of the Spitzbergen population.

The wireless station at Green Harbor has received such a large number of telegrams from different parts of the world that the chief of the station, at the request of Wilkins, has sent out a message saying that in the future they will refuse to answer any questions regarding the aviators.

Repairs Begun. Work of repairing the under part of Wilkins' airplane is under way.

Wilkins is understood to be anxious to leave for Norway by steamer as soon as possible, but whether the work of repairing the plane indicates that the men instead will attempt to fly over the ice which blocks their path to Europe is not known.

It does not seem possible that they will fly from Green Harbor, however, since the plane's fuel is said to have been almost exhausted in the long flight from Point Barrow, Alaska.

The first available boat for Norway probably will not sail before the middle of May, when the ice that surrounds Spitzbergen breaks up.

The explorers, if they embark from Kings Bay, must travel there at least 50 miles by dog sled. They may decide to wait until the ice is cleared from Lafford on which Green Harbor is situated as this would enable them to ship the plane more easily.

Lost on Dead Man's Isle.

The flyers said that when they landed on Dead Man's Island they did not know just where they were as their maps of the Spitzbergen district were very primitive. This island is said to be very well known by Norwegian explorers and is about 12½ miles long, running east and west.

During their stay on Dead Man's Island a snowstorm raged and it was bitter cold. The aviators were forced to keep inside their plane.

On arriving at Green Harbor the first thing Wilkins and Eielson did was to cover the airplane with a double canvas cover to keep it from freezing. This had to be done in extreme cold and without gloves.

"Will Yield Rich Hopes for Future," Says Noble.

ST. LOUIS, Germany, April 24.—Gen. Umberto Noble, who is preparing for his expedition to the North Pole, had the following to say about the Polar flight of Capt. Wilkins:

"This is my opinion of the Wilkins flight: I have had the pleasure of meeting Capt. Wilkins at Detroit at the time a banquet was given in my honor. I saw immediately that I was meeting a man of great energy and tenacity, who some day would attain the purpose he had set himself.

"I am delighted to hear that his efforts have been crowned with success, and that he has been able to cover in a reverse direction, and by other means, the route we traversed in 1926. Undoubtedly

Wilkins Says Wireless Gave Out Before Forced Landing.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The New York Times, in a copyrighted article, printed a second dispatch from Capt. Wilkins describing his preparations at Point Barrow, Alaska, for his Arctic flight to Spitzbergen and detailing minutely the equipment he carried.

The equipment included two rifles, seal spears and apparatus for retrieving dead seals from the water in case the flyers were compelled to land and make their way to human habitations afoot. The plane was built of wood, one of the objects for this construction being its use as a boat or sled.

The dispatch brings out the fact that the plane's wireless, although carefully tested in advance of the flight and husbanded until the actual start, gave out before the flyers landed after running, Capt. Wilkins says, "for many hours."

The third failure to rise from the ice at Point Barrow occurred on Friday, April 13, and Capt. Wilkins attributes this last failure to "bad luck" day. Two days later, after 48 hours of hard shovelling, the flyers were in the air and on their way.

The dispatch is accompanied by a detailed description of the course and the varying conditions of weather and ice met at every point throughout the flight.

"Perhaps Not Very Fruitful Scientifically," Says French Explorer.

PARIS, April 24.—"A marvelous feat, a magnificent example of energy, but scientifically perhaps not very fruitful," says Dr. Charcot, the French Polar explorer, of Capt. Wilkins' flight.

"Really, I cannot see what new observations the hardy pilots can have made," he said. "But Wilkins' flight is especially interesting as an effort toward final achievement which must be to reach the Pole and remain there long enough to make all necessary observations before returning."

BRITISH BUDGET SHOWS $22,500,000 SURPLUS

Churchill Predicts Larger Saving Next Year From Intensive Economy Campaign.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 24.—Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introducing his new budget in the House of Commons today, showed what he alluded to as "a modest, but not unwelcome surplus" of £15,000,000 ($22,500,000) for the year just ended.

The surplus was due largely to an intensive economy campaign which had been waged in all departments. He predicted a surplus of £30,000,000 for next year, with an estimated decrease in expenditure of roughly £2,600,000.

The estimated revenue for the forthcoming year was fixed at £812,497,000 and the expenditures at £806,195,000.

Announces Gasoline Tax. Among the new taxes announced by the Chancellor is a duty of four pence (8 cents) a gallon on petrol and other forms of motor car spirit, kerosene, white spirits and turpentine. The duty becomes effective tomorrow.

Heavy oil and lubricating oils will be free from taxation. All forms of home oil production will be free from any countervailing excise duty.

As the Chancellor was speaking, the Prince of Wales and Prince Henry, who has just been introduced in the House of Lords as Duke of Gloucester, took seats in the peers' gallery to hear the budget estimates presented.

To Merge Currency Issues. Churchill said that amalgamation of currency notes with the Bank of England note issue would take place in the present financial year. The amount allocated to the sinking fund would again be £55,000,000.

Discussing the system of savings certificates, he said the time had come when it must be put on a sound business foundation. The excise duty on British wines will be raised from a shilling a gallon to 18 pence.

There will be a small adjustment in the customs duty on cinematograph films in order to place British Empire films on the same footing as those produced abroad by British companies.

After the presentation of the budget the Commons adjourned for tea.

Stewart Admits He Was Fourth Partner in Continental

Walsh declared. The contempt was committed when Stewart refused and nothing he does now will purge him of the offense. The fact that he has answered will not be permitted to go before the jury which tries him for contempt.

"With all respect, I don't believe you." But in the main his demeanor was tame and he was amenable to questioning especially by Senator Walsh, who handled him with kid gloves.

He was accompanied into court by a platoon of attorneys, including those who are representing him in the attachment suit and the contempt case. In an inquiry which stated that in the event of my death, it was to be opened by my executors in the presence of the treasurers of the Standard and the Sinclair Crude.

Got Bonds From Oiler.

"Without surrendering my other point, that the committee lacked jurisdiction to question me on those matters, I am ready to tell what I know about the disposition of $759,500 of those bonds," was the subdued answer.

Stewart related that H. S. Oiler, the Toronto lawyer who incorporated and was the dummy head of the Continental, came to Stewart's office in Chicago on the morning of Nov. 26, 1921.

This was five days after the celebrated New York meeting between Stewart, Sinclair, James E. O'Neill, head of the Prairie Oil and Gas Co., and H. M. Blackmer, head of the Midwest, a Standard subsidiary. In that deal the oil men, acting under the name of the bogus Continental, purchased 33,333,333 barrels of oil at $1.50 a barrel and contracted immediately to resell it at $1.75 a barrel to the Prairie, O'Neill's company, and the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Co., which was owned equally by Sinclair and the Standard of Indiana. In other words, they bought the oil and resold it to their own companies at a profit of 25 cents a barrel. A total profit of $1,666,666 was the result.

How the Profit Was Divided.

Stewart has repeatedly denied that he acted in any capacity except as a purchaser for the Sinclair Crude. Sinclair has refused to testify. Blackmer and O'Neill fled to Europe to avoid questioning. It was afterward learned, however, that Blackmer, O'Neill and Sinclair had each received a share of the profits, all of which were invested in Liberty bonds. O'Neill later made a partial restitution of these bonds in the sense that I considered myself their owner.

Acted as "Conduit." "I acted merely as the conduit by which the bonds went from Oiler to the trust."

A titter in the room followed this explanation, which was strikingly reminiscent of those given earlier by Will H. Hays following the discovery that he had not told the committee all the truth.

Stewart produced the original trust agreement which he had described and also the envelope bearing the directions as to its disposition in the event of his death.

Both were written in his hand with a pen. When Senator Nye inquired why he had not dictated the agreement to a stenographer in the usual way, Stewart answered bluntly: "Because I didn't want any stenographer or anybody else to know it existed."

It was noted that nowhere in the agreement did the name of the Continental Trading Co. appear. It described the source of the bonds only as the contracts signed by Stewart, Sinclair, Blackmer and O'Neill. Stewart justified his participation in the deal by saying his companies needed the oil, "and this appeared to be the only way to get it." He admitted that the whole transaction was "extraordinary" and that he "might have made a mistake by participating in it."

He attempted to give the impression of a man who had been drawn into a shady transaction against his will and had endeavored to satisfy his conscience by declining to accept any of the illegitimate fruits of it.

He did not, however, attempt any justification of his failure to aid the Government after it was learned that Sinclair's share had been used to corrupt a Cabinet officer. On the contrary, he admitted that his refusal to testify earlier was based partly on a desire to protect Sinclair's interest.

During the course of Stewart's testimony Walsh disclosed to him that the committee, through the Treasury Department, had already traced some of the Continental bonds' coupons to him, and would have been able to confront him with evidence if he had persisted in his denials. Referring to an apparent hiatus in the train of proof, Stewart interposed: "I think you were 40 rows of apples trees away from proving it until I told you the truth today."

His attention was directed to the fact that in December, 1922, and again one year later, he had deposited $13,903 in coupons from Liberty bonds in the interest account. This represented the interest on $794,000 in Liberty bonds. In view of Stewart's testimony that he did not receive the last delivery of Continental bonds in 1923, the committee was curious to know how the deposits happened to be identical.

"I own a substantial amount of Liberty bonds," Stewart replied. "It was these bonds that I deposited. I had coupons of Continental bonds had been identified in each deposit."

"Then I have no explanation of it," he said.

After some further discussion of the point in which Stewart reiterated that he had no memory of the deposits, and could not explain their sameness, except as a coincidence, Walsh asked him if he knew

I was entitled to any of them. It was the first I had heard of any intention to give them to me. Oiler replied that I could do what I wanted with them but he would hand them to me.

Put Bonds in Trust.

"I decided to trustee any profits that I received from that source. I called in Roy Barnett, the tax commissioner of our company, and asked him to act as trustee. I felt that the profits belonged either to the Standard or to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Co. or to both and I wrote a trust agreement in which I assigned all my right or interest in the bonds to those companies in equal shares.

"The agreement also provided that I could terminate it at any time that I might decide to make a distribution of the profits. The envelope I left for Barnett and I think I took the agreement with me in my pocket. When I returned I put it in an envelope and put the envelope in a safety deposit box in Barnett's custody. The envelope bore an inscription which stated that in the event of my death, it was to be opened by my executors in the presence of the treasurers of the Standard and the Sinclair Crude.

"Early in 1922 I met Oiler in the Belmont Hotel, in New York and he handed me a package. I didn't open it until I returned to Chicago and then I called in Barnett and opened it. It contained Liberty Bonds, which I at once turned over to him to be held in the trust which I had created."

"On four or five subsequent occasions I received similar packages from Oiler. The last delivery was made to me in May or June, 1923, and the total amount received by me was $759,500. These bonds have always been in the safe of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana."

After Sinclair's Acquittal.

On Saturday afternoon, after both sides had closed their cases in the trial of Sinclair, I called the directors of the Standard Oil of Indiana together and told them what had happened. Seven of the nine directors were present. I brought out the bonds, and told them to make what disposition of them they believed proper. They decided the bonds should all go to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Co. The treasurer of that company was called in, the bonds were given to him and he has them now.

"When I gave the first bonds to Barnett, I instructed him to clip the coupons as they fell due and turn them over to me. When he did so I gave him additional Liberty Bonds, representing the cash value of the coupons, to be added to the trust."

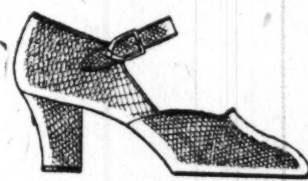

"He and I clipped those coupons up to those which fell due Dec. 15, 1923. I cashed or deposited them and gave him the equivalent in other bonds. The total value of the coupons cashed was $38,000 and the coupons of these bonds in the trust were $38,000."

Apparently in an attempt to explain his previous testimony that he had never received any of the bonds, Stewart added: "I want to say that I was never in possession of these bonds in the sense that I considered myself their owner."

tors," he chuckled. "I have any plans about it."

Stalling grimly, Walsh asked that "perhaps Mr. Blackmer might properly be made available for that purpose." Stewart declined any comment about the duty or obligation of a fugitive associate.

Denies Visiting Fall's Ranch. "Were you at Secretary Fall's New Mexico ranch, in January, 1922?" Chairman Nye asked. "Absolutely not."

"Mr. Chase so testified," said (C. C. Chase, Fall's secretary).

"Then he lied," Stewart said. "I never visited Secretary Fall's ranch in my life. That was in November, 1922, and I telegraphed Senator Walsh then, telling him there was on the matter of the Creek royalty oil."

Stewart added that H. M. Blackmer, then president of the Midwest Refining Co., was with him when that Sinclair was not there at that time.

JOHN M. GOMES (left) and P. H. Callahan (right), Civil War veterans, meet in the opening match of the Perpetual Youth Club billiard tournament. Gomes, 83 years old, and Callahan, 78, both fulfill the requirement that all entrants must be three-score-and-ten years of age or more.

The Perpetual Youth Club has started its annual spring offensive against old age. Thirty-two members of the club—every one of them past the traditional three-score-and-ten span of life—are on the firing line, cue in hand. The immediate purpose is to decide the club billiard championship. But the ultimate object is to knock old age for a row of centuries.

Alex A. Selkirk, president, who picked up his first cue in a saloon at Thirtieth and Carr streets 61 years ago, started the tournament at Peterson's, Seventh street near Olive, yesterday afternoon, with an inspiring harangue.

"Don't quit now," urged Selkirk, white-haired, erect and towering. "Don't quit living. Keep on—your noodle working. Stay in business. Get yourself something to do—a peanut stand if you can't get anything else. And if you don't do that, play billiards."

Combined Age 2355 Years. Charles C. Peterson—"Charlie," as they call him, who organized the first perpetual youth tournament three years ago—recited some statistics. The combined ages of some 80-odd billiard players who were members or prospective members of the club was nearly 7000 years. The total ages of the 35 entrants in the tournament was 2355 years. And, Peterson told the club, the local organization was likely to become the parent of similar clubs in other parts of the country.

Mayor Miller gave the tournament an official sanction, and as commander of the club members and members of the G. A. R. in Missouri, Capt. William F. Henry, 82 years old, added a word. Then, with Mayor Miller and 25 members of the club cheering lustily from the side lines, two Civil War veterans—John M. Gomes, 83, and P. H. Callahan, 78—played the first match. Games won by three points.

Selkirk, who has played at least one game of billiards virtually every day for 40 years, served as master of ceremonies and indulged in reminiscences with some of the other old-timers.

The Old Four-Ball Game. "They used to play this game me? In my opinion, if Cole didn't steal that still himself, some of his creditors stole it and he had to blame it on the police to keep the Italians from investigating. I guess he picked it up because I was in the district."

Tells of Inquiry About Site. Another detective, Franklin J. Kohl, testified he heard Cole ask Fleming about getting a place for a truck garden and Fleming, who was related to a family residing near the "still house," mentioned the latter property.

Police Captain Hanna and Stinger testified that those of the defendants who had worked under them were good officers, and Detective-Lieutenant Mulcahy said he knew nothing against Howard, Fabick and Kloeppel, who were under him. Chief of Detective Kaiser said he knew nothing against the defendants, except—

"Taylor," he asserted, "when he was on uniform duty downtown used to get tanked up every night after he was relieved and made every saloon downtown."

Taylor cried out a denial. "The only complaint we ever had against Howard," the chief continued, "was for slugging a fellow."

Illness of Juror Necessitates Substitution in Hearing Growing Out of Concern's Failure. The collapse of a juror from illness after counsel for the Government and defense had completed opening statements, caused a technical mistrial to be declared in the case of Forrest Ferguson, president, and Alfred Baggott, secretary, of the defunct Ferguson-McKinney Dry Goods Co., shortly after noon today.

It was agreed, however, by counsel and Federal Judge Davis that a twelfth juror be substituted for the sick jurymen and that the trial proceed without further delay. Six new talesmen were summoned and selection of the substitute juror was made. Government and defense counsel waived the reading of the indictments and repetition of opening statements to this juror.

The afflicted juror collapsed while the jury was filing out for a 10-minute recess. He was carried to an ante-room and a physician hastily summoned revived him. He told the physician he had been subject to epileptic attacks for four or five years.

Ferguson and Baggott are charged with sending false financial statements through the mails to obtain credit. This is their second trial, a hung jury having resulted from the first trial.

Will of Dr. Francis L. Stuever, Who Died in Vienna, Leaves Money to Movement in Europe and U. S.

DRY CAUSE TOGETHER ST. LOUIS DOCTOR'S $300,000 ESTATE

Will of Dr. Francis L. Stuever, who died in Vienna, leaves money to Movement in Europe and U. S.

The $300,000 estate of Dr. Francis L. Stuever, retired St. Louis physician who died in Vienna, Feb. 17, will go to aid prohibition in Germany, Austria and the United States on the death of his sister, Miss Celia M. Stuever, according to his will, which was filed yesterday. During Miss Stuever's life the estate will be in trust, and $4000 of each year's income will go for the advancement of prohibition in Germany and Austria.

Miss Stuever is to receive all the income over the yearly $4000 prohibition allotment until her death. But should the estate's income fall to less than $7000, it is then to be divided equally between Miss Stuever and prohibition. Of the prohibition benefit, two-thirds of it, $1666, goes to German abstinence work, to be used for "the promotion of the cause of prohibition by legislation of the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquor and beverages." The remaining $1333 goes to Austrian prohibition advancement.

Whole Estate to Dry Cause. On Miss Stuever's death, the estate, where not paying a fair income, is to be converted into cash by the trustees. But regardless of how lucrative the securities have become, the whole estate is to be expended for the temperance cause within 50 years after the death of Miss Stuever. Germany is to get six-tenths of the estate's bulk for its prohibition advancement, which, according to the estimated value of the estate, should be about $180,000. It is to be given American temperance agencies. The remaining tenth goes to the cause in Austria.

Henry L. Cornet and Frederick G. Zeibig of St. Louis are named trustees. The annual $4000 temperance allotment is to be paid by the trustees to the International Reform Federation at Washington. The Federation is not to use it, or any part of it, to "aid in the election or appointment of any person to any political or official position," and an annual statement is to be given to the trustees.

The will, dated Nov. 13, 1926, made in Vienna, states the donor hopes that any laws fostering prohibition in the countries mentioned "shall contain provisions that any beverage and liquor containing more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcoholic content shall be considered intoxicating."

Died at 86 in Vienna. Dr. Stuever was 86 years old when he died at the University Hospital in Vienna. His death was caused by infirmities of age. He was the son of Charles L. Stuever, a North St. Louis grocer, born and reared and educated in St. Louis. Dr. Stuever practiced here until his retirement in 1900. He was unmarried, and since his retirement he and his sister, 12 years his junior, had traveled extensively. Although seldom in St. Louis in the last 27 years, the physician claimed this city as his home.

Miss Stuever also is said to be worth about $300,000, she and her brother having been joint owners of securities and property valued at about $600,000. The combined estates include 41 parcels of St. Louis real estate.

Dr. Stuever was a cousin of Anton C. Stuever, widely known as "Tony" Stuever, St. Louis brewer, who died in 1923.

Tobacco Helps His Digestion, Says Doctor Who Examined Seattle Boy, 4.

By the Associated Press. SEATTLE, Wash., April 24.—Freddie Riggs, who at the age of 4 smokes cigars as his contemporaries eat lollipops, is physically developed a year and a half beyond his years. His mental development is one year above the average, Dr. Ira C. Brown, head of the Seattle School Health Department, said today after he had examined the boy.

"The boy is decidedly above the average," Dr. Brown said. "The only two things I did find that might be called defects were that his blood pressure is a little higher than it should be and he shows a slight tendency toward anemia." Mrs. Ralph Riggs, Freddie's mother, explained to Dr. Brown that Freddie at 10 months was puffy and unable to take his food until he seized his father's pipe and started smoking. Three months later he started to smoke cigars.

"I feel that medical men can learn a lesson from this boy," Dr. Brown said. "Tobacco increases the flow of saliva and thus aiding the child's digestion. The creosote in the tobacco relieved the fermentation of food for Freddie when he was a baby."

Dr. Brown said it would take three months to cure the child of the tobacco habit through careful regulation of the diet.

since Sandino has shifted the center of his operations to a new and undeveloped country which is almost inaccessible. This presents Marine headquarters with a difficult problem.

It is stated at brigade headquarters that the actual location of Gen. Sandino, commanding the insurgents, was uncertain, but that it was quite possible he was with these men, as he knows the country well. Sandino's followers are estimated at about 100, some of them boys.

Three More Americans Seized in Nicaragua. By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—A telegram stating that insurgents in Nicaragua had seized the mine of the Bonanza Mines Corporation was made public today by Benjamin C. Warnick, president of the company. The telegram was received yesterday from his agent at Managua.

LIQUOR VALUED AT $5000 SEIZED IN POLICE RAID

Benny McGovern, Ex-Prizefighter, Arrested as Owner of Truck, Released on $500 Bond.

Benny McGovern, former featherweight champion boxer of St. Louis, was arrested this afternoon and questioned about whisky and beer with a bootleg value of $5000 seized in a truck in a garage at 1546 South Spring avenue yesterday afternoon.

McGovern said he used the truck in his work as salesman for the Shaw Floral Shoppe, 4472 Shaw boulevard, but denied, police reported, any knowledge of the liquor. He was released on $500 bond.

After McGovern had left police headquarters, Benny O'Reilly, 4000 De Tonty street, surrendered to police and said he was owner of the floral shop and McGovern's employer. He also said he knew nothing about the liquor. He was released on $500 bond.

A tip that McGovern was handling something besides palettes and tulips led to the raid on the garage housing the Ford truck with the license in McGovern's name, according to police. In the truck were 12 sacks, each containing 24 bottles labeled "Liberty Beer"—which the raiders described as Canadian product containing more than 4 per cent alcohol.

Also in the garage were shipping cases filled with 144 sacks which held 66 quarts of White Label Scotch; 72 quarts Johnny Walker; 84 quarts Canadian Club; 24 pints O. F. C.; 12 pints Old Taylor; 12 quarts Old Pat; 12 bottles Gordon gin; 12 bottles High and Dry gin, and 10 five-gallon cans of alcohol.

The shipping cases bore marks of consignment to a fictitious printing company at a vacant East St. Louis building.

Police were admitted to the garage by Daniel Boyd, McGovern's said he was employed by McGovern at $25 a week to drive the truck. The truck's license plates had been issued to McGovern.

While the police were checking over the liquor before transferring it to headquarters, a boy arrived with a message that "Jake was wanted on the telephone," at a nearby drug store. A policeman responded for "Jake," and the man at the other end of the wire instructed him to "get that truck out of there, because the cops are coming."

PASSENGER KILLED WITH PILOT IN CRASH OF PLANE

Accident at Ford Airport, Detroit, Occurs in Demonstration of Machine.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., April 24.—Gordon A. Taylor, 25 years old, of the Taylor Aircraft Corporation, Rochester, N. Y., pilot, and Aaron Rosenbleet of New York City, a passenger, were killed this afternoon at the Ford Airport when a plane Taylor was demonstrating went into a nose dive at an altitude of about 1000 feet and crashed to the ground.

WRIGHT AERO UP $12 A SHARE Brisk Bidding Sends Other Issues High at New York. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, April 24.—Squeezing of an overcrowded short interest in Wright Aero, which advanced $12 a share, caused a resumption of brisk bidding for other issues in the final half-hour of trading on the Stock Exchange today, and a number of influential issues rose $2 to $4 a share above yesterday's final figures.

Previously the price movement had been much confused, owing to uneasiness over the credit outlook and a fresh outburst of liquidation in tobacco stocks in consequence of the recent cigarette price cuts. An interesting feature was the rise of $200 a share of New York & Harlem after it had fallen to $230, as compared with yesterday's closing quotations of $247.

Locust Plague in Egypt. By the Associated Press. CAIRO, Egypt, April 24.—Swarms of locusts today were reported to have arrived in Upper and Lower Egypt. They are attacking the cotton plant and the authorities are acting energetically to wipe out the plague.

Justice Mowat of Ontario Dies. TORONTO, Ont., April 24.—Herbert Macdonald Mowat, 65 years old, Justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario, died today.

responded for "Jake," and the man at the other end of the wire instructed him to "get that truck out of there, because the cops are coming."

"You come down and get the truck out yourself—I don't want to get caught with it," the pseudo-"Jake" denurred. Fifteen minutes later the man again telephoned for "Jake" to take the truck away. The man did not come to the garage.

The garage is owned by Joseph H. Quinn, general hauler, of Clayton, who said he had leased it to a man named Rellu, Quattmann, Boyd and three men who called later at the garage are being held pending investigation.

THREE INDICTED FOR MURDER OF STATE'S WITNESS

Joseph Passafiume, Joseph Troup and Joseph Buschman Named in Slaying of Negro Youth.

Three men were indicted by the grand jury this afternoon for the kidnapping and murder a week ago of Odell Slattery, 18-year-old Negro and principal State's witness in a robbery case, it was announced by Chief of Detectives Kaiser. The defendants are charged against them, according to Chief Kaiser, are:

Joseph Passafiume, who was arrested last week for questioning but admitted to bond, charged with murder and conspiracy.

Joseph Buschman, former convict, who was convicted again in the robbery case last week, partly through transcript of Slattery's testimony at a preliminary hearing, and given a life sentence; charged with kidnapping and conspiracy.

Chief Kaiser said the police had found witnesses, whose identity is suppressed, who saw Slattery kidnapped by Passafiume, Troup and Buschman, in front of the House of Detention, Fourteenth street and Clark avenue, at 2 p. m., Monday, April 16. The kidnappers, it was said, were in an automobile. Slattery had been given permission to live in the House of Detention for his own safety, "as it was feared an attempt might be made on his life to keep him from testifying. He was not a prisoner. At Municipal Courts Building this afternoon it was learned that a prisoner in City Jail, which adjoins the House of Detention, had been taken before the grand jury to tell of seeing Passafiume signal companions on the approach of slattery."

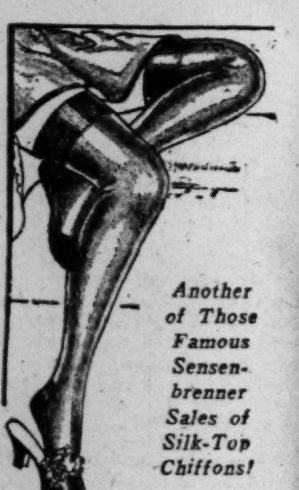

Within 12 hours after the kidnapping, Slattery was shot to death in St. Louis County. Slattery had been the State's star witness in the trial of Edward Taylor, another ex-convict, who also received a life sentence for the robbery in which Buschman participated. The robbery was the $375 payroll holdup at the William G. Nicklin Tannery, 409 South Second street, Aug. 13. Slattery identified another man, Elmer Schneider, in that crime.

Fresh-Made Orange Juice

So good - and
so good for you

In stores and on stands, electrical Sunkist Extractors serve you sweet, luscious California orange juice. It is wonderful. You see the juice extracted from the oranges and you know it is pure and fresh with all the needed vitamins and mineral salts for natural
"pick-up" and energy
building.

No one health-habit is so good for you as taking two or three generous glassfuls
of orange juice during the business day. One before breakfast, another about eleven and a third about four o'clock will increase your capacity and ward off
the late afternoon "sag."

Orange juice is one of the most potent correctives of ACIDOSIS known to Medical Science. Effects of too much acid foods and over eating are corrected or prevented by frequent use of orange juice.

Favor the merchant who serves you pure, fresh orange juice, made on this Sunkist machine to your order. It is what your health demands. Use them liberally at home as juice, and in quickly made salads and desserts. Sunkist Oranges
come to you all the year.
There is a size for every pocket-book—all are of true Sunkist quality.

ADMIRERS OF TOM MIX THROW TO FREE SHOW

Boys and Some Elders Come Near Crowding Tony and His Rider Off Field.

"Gee, what a mob!" "What d'you suppose it's all about?"
"Wonder if the Highlands is open."
"Must be a union picnic."
"Wonder if Lindbergh..."

These and 457 other assorted guesses of downtown workers, as they passed the former air mail field in Forest Park, opposite Forest Park Highlands on the way home by Market car line yesterday were all wrong. The crowd was there to see 60-odd boys compete for the best cowboy costume, and incidentally to see Tony and his rider, Tom Mix, the movie star, who are appearing this week at the St. Louis Theater.

Mix made a shrewd guess when he said beforehand that he'd "give them the whole works, just so they don't crowd me off the field." They came very near crowding him off
the field, and they did crowd one contestant off the program, a roping contestant for schoolboys.

Impartial estimates of the gathering ran higher than 5000. Spectators formed three sides of a square about the old air mail field,
four to 10 and 12 deep, two blocks long on the south, a block and a half on the west and a block on the north.

When Tony was led aside and the costumed schoolboys lined up on a long wagon for the contest,
the onlookers formed a solid mass
almost, if not quite, a block square.

There were as many men and women, and as many children as boys. About 150 parents and about 700 brothers and sisters, it seemed
—not to mention the participants
—were intensely interested in the contests. Outside of that, the men pretended to be interested in the horses. The women—well, as one retorted to a husband (mere husband, we believe, is the full name)
—"Why mention the horse? What about the man?"

Mix, however, managed to keep peace in that family of getting,
t band and wife equally interested in his fancy riding. Then he broke some glass bottles in the air with rifle shots, and made a speech
about citizenship.

For a while it appeared that there wasn't going to be any contest. Spectators milled not only about, but over, the wagon which was to be the stage. But at length Mix borrowed a mounted policeman's horse and some hundreds on the fringes of the gathering broke away and ran, an iridescent swarm over the green turf, after his white hat and green, yellow, black, red and white jacket.

The contestants lined up, and in a minute or two 5-year-old George H. Lollbach Jr. of 4964 Elchelberger avenue, wriggled out of the crush with the first prize, an enormous cowboy hat, resting on his ears just above a grin that matched it adequately. Second prize, leather chaps, went to Joseph Miller, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Miller of 1109 Manchester avenue, and third prize, $10 in gold, to J. E. Hoffmann Jr. of 1638 Burd avenue.

WILL SPEND TWO YEARS

three books with him—the Bible,
the World Almanac and a dictionary—Gustav Davidson, 32 years old, author and book reviewer, will leave May 1 for a two-year residence on Rimutara, an island of the Austral group about 500 miles south of Tahiti, said to be uninhabited heretofore by a white man.

"New York dissipates me," Davidson said last night. "I am looking forward to a spiritual rejuvenation in my adventure."

The Austral Islands are virgin literary soil which he desires to cultivate, Davidson said. He has drawn up a schedule of literary works he intends to write, which includes two novels, a travel book,
a diary, short stories and a play,
based on life in the islands of Rimutara, Rurutu, Tubuai, and Paha. He will take two motion picture cameras.

OLIVE STREET CAR SKIP STOP SYSTEM OPPOSED BY PETITION

Thousand Property Owners and Others in 20 Blocks Affected Have Signed.

Petitions against continuation of the skip-stop system for trolley cars on Widened Olive street will be filed with Director of Streets and Sewers Brooks tomorrow by the West End Business Men's Association. About 1000 property owners in the 20 blocks affected and employees and customers of business houses in that district have signed. The director started the system to facilitate paving the thoroughfare, but the association fears it might be made permanent. Only two minutes instead of the six claimed is saved in trolley running time, the petition asserts, adding that the franchise requires stops at every corner unless the Public Service Commission authorizes a change. The protest declares that many persons having business on Olive, Locust and Pine streets have to walk too far for cars now and lose too much time, and claims that stops at every block have not interfered with paving of the streets.

M. M. GREENWOOD, LIFE-LONG FRIEND OF DEPEW, DIES AT 94

Former St. Louis Real Estate Man Was in Virginia; Funeral in This City Friday.

Moses Merritt Greenwood, a former St. Louisian who was a college associate and lifelong friend of the late Chauncey Depew, died of pneumonia today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. R. Hagber of Richmond, Va. He was strongly affected by the recent death of Depew, and this is thought by his family to have hastened his death. He was 94 years old.

Mr. Greenwood came to St. Louis in 1890 and until his retirement in 1910 was associated with his sons in the real estate business. Before that he had operated a cotton factory in New Orleans. For the past three years he has made his home in Richmond.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Westminster Presbyterian Church, of which he has been presiding elder for 40 years. Burial will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery. Three sons and two daughters survive. A daughter, Miss Jennie M. Greenwood, lives at 5004 Waterman avenue.

MRS. AMELIA GREGG DIES AT SON'S TENNESSEE HOME

Mother of Late President of St. Louis Fire Brick Company Was 89 Years Old.

Mrs. Amelia Hemenway Gregg, former St. Louisian and mother of the late Cecil D. Gregg, former president of the Evans & Howard Fire Brick Co., died yesterday of the infirmities of age at Lookout Mountain, Tenn., where she lived with her son, the Rev. Harris Gregg.

Mrs. Gregg, who was 89 years old, had lived in St. Louis for 35 years. She moved to Tennessee about five years ago. Besides her son, a daughter, Miss Helen Gregg of St. Louis, survives.

Funeral services will be held at Lookout Mountain, with burial at Sandusky, O., her former home.

MAN INJURED WHEN TAR STILL OF 10,000 GALLONS EXPLODES

Damage of Several Thousand Dollars Caused When Condensing Device Blows Up.

A 10,000-gallon condensing still exploded at the plant of the American Tar Products Co., 4000 Bingham avenue, at 11 a. m. today. John Davis, a still tender, suffered injuries for which he was treated at a physician's office. His condition was said not to be serious.

Damage of several thousand dollars was caused, but company officials declined to make an estimate. The explosion, attributed to "atmospheric conditions," occurred while tar was being distilled.

The plant is one of several throughout the country operated by the American Tar Products Co.

Miss C. Michalski Tells How Cuticura Healed Eczema

"My eczema started with a red rash breaking out on my hands. I put them in water the skin would soften up, and as soon as I dried them they would get stiff and the skin would crack. I read an advertisement about your free offer of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a sample. I purchased more, and in a few months I was completely healed." # The new way to Easy Housekeeping

Wouldn't you like to find ways to make housekeeping magically easy?

Ways that will give your wash a professional whiteness? Ways that will keep the machinery of your house—such as drainpipes, toilet bowls, garbage cans, etc.—fresh, sterile, and odorless? In fact, ways that will do any cleaning job more quickly, more easily, more efficiently?

Household magic

You can find all these things in Clorox. Household magic is like this. For Clorox is more than a product, it is a method—truly a new way to easy housekeeping.

Clorox is the modern housewife's "elbow grease" put up in a convenient ever-ready bottle. It cleanses, bleaches, deodorizes, and disinfects—all in one swift operation. And best of all it helps you spare yourself in time and strength and effort—yet your pride as an efficient, intelligent housewife will be satisfied and even increased.

All over the house Put Clorox to work all over the house. You will soon find that your one all-purpose bottle is so much in demand whenever cleaning is to be done, that it will be a time-saver to have a kitchen bottle, a laundry bottle, a bathroom bottle, and even a medicine-shelf bottle.

A friend for life

Recently a woman moved from one city to another and took a whole case of Clorox with her. She said she was afraid she would not be able to get it, and she wouldn't be without it.

If you do not already know Clorox, order your first bottle today. Your grocer has it. Like our customer who moved, once you've used Clorox, you will never want to be without it again!

Easy laundry work

No woman actually likes to do washing, but most women take great pride in the gleaming, snowy whiteness of their laundry work. This has always meant a heavy, clumsy, steamy boiler. But there is a better way—easier, quicker, more efficient.

Add a tablespoonful of Clorox to each gallon of soaking or rinsing water and presto—white clothes! No boiling, less effort, less time, and yet results you'll be proud of! All white cotton or linen laundering can be handled in this way whether you use a washing machine or tubs.

Every day science gives more attention to the needs of the modern housewife. The reason is that she intelligently demands to be freed from drudgery. Read what Mrs. MacGregor, Director of Household Science of the Clorox Chemical Corporation, has to say about ways to be both a charming and leisured woman, yet a proudly efficient housekeeper.

AT ALL GROCERS

A protection against germs
"But," you will say, "boiling sterilizes—it's the only safe way to be sure of cleanliness."

Clorox is a germicide as well as a bleach, and both disinfects and deodorizes just by being present in the soaking or rinsing water.

Stain removal

Those awful spots and stains! Salt, lemon, vinegar, milk, cold water, this and that—and still they won't come out! But use Clorox! You will be enchanted with the results. There is practically no stain that does not vanish quickly and easily when treated with a Clorox solution.

For instance: Mildew and scorching—ugliness you never thought to get rid of! Iodine, mercurchrome, argyrol and other medicine stains need never worry you. And tea, coffee, chocolate, and wine stains, grass and flower stains, meat and blood stains, fruit stains—all of them treated as directed on the Clorox label are as simple to get rid of as any ordinary soil.

Points for protection

There are so many places in a house that need careful watching against germs and offensive odors. For such purposes, Clorox is marvelously simple to use.

Refrigerators, coolers, food containers, garbage cans, rinsed in a solution of Clorox are not only cleansed and made sterile but are protected against insects. And half a cup of Clorox plus three tablespoonful of vinegar left to stand for a short while in toilet bowls, will thoroughly disinfect, deodorize and remove stains.

Wood and wicker

From drainboards to wicker and reed furniture is a long jump! But Clorox will do for drainboards, unpainted floors, reed and wicker, and wooden utensils, what hours of scrubbing cannot do. It is important that you follow the directions carefully as given on the label for each of these separate uses.

Personal uses

When one is well, Clorox in the bath, as a relief for tired feet, as a cuticle softener, is pleasant to use. And if one is so unfortunate as to be ill, there are a dozen tasks of sterilizing and disinfecting that Clorox will do quickly and easily. Again, follow directions!

Free Chart

In these columns I can touch only the high spots in telling of the wonder of this marvelous housekeeping help. Won't you write to me? I shall be glad to answer your special needs by letter. Write for my "Easy Housekeeping Chart" which will save you many hours of time and work. It tells at a glance how, when, and when to use Clorox to the greatest advantage.

SENATE MODIFIES AMENDMENT FOR MARINES' RECALL

Blaine Accepts Two Radical Changes to His Rider on the Naval Appropriation Bill.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 24.—Modification of the amendment of Senator Blaine, (Rep.) of Wisconsin, to the naval appropriation bill for withdrawal of marines from Nicaragua was effected in the Senate yesterday in such manner as apparently to assure its adoption.

The author accepted two radical changes in his amendment. At the suggestion of Senator Borah, (Rep.) of Idaho, he proposed that the funds of the Navy Department be withheld for use of marines in cases of foreign intervention after next Feb. 1, rather than after next Dec. 25.

Then, Senator Blaine accepted an amendment by Senator Pittman, (Dem.) of Nevada, which would specify that the limitation on the use of funds for marines in foreign countries should not apply "in case of actual physical attacks upon American citizens or their property, or the immediate danger of such attacks at any time, when the forces of the United States may be used by the President for strictly protective purposes without the consent of Congress."

Takes Sting Out of Amendment.

This provision apparently took much of the sting out of the original proposal of the Wisconsin Senator, for both Senator Borah, who is chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and Senator Swanson, of Virginia, ranking Democrat on the committee, indicated they favored it. They had opposed Blaine's first amendment which would have forbid the use of troops in any foreign country after next Dec. 25 in matters of intervention.

Senator Edge, of New Jersey, who has been leading the administration fight against the Blaine anti-intervention proposal, however, is still unconvinced of the practicability of stating a foreign policy in an appropriation bill. Senator Borah made it clear, though, that he thought the modified amendment would constitute no infringement upon the power of the President.

The Feb. 1 date was set by Blaine after Senator Borah had called attention to the fact that the new administration to be elected next August would not go into power until Jan. 1 and he thought ample time should be given for withdrawal of marines after that date. He has favored the administration policy of supervision of the approaching Nicaraguan election.

Norris Assails Coolidge's Policy.
Senator Norris (Rep.) of Nebraska, led the attack against the administration yesterday for its Nicaraguan policy, insisting that President Coolidge had carried on warfare in that country and it that was the case he had violated the Constitution in not obtaining the consent of Congress.

Senator Swanson declared he had no sympathy with the first movement of troops to Nicaragua, but he urged defeat of the original Blaine amendment because he felt that this country should keep its pledge to Nicaragua of insuring a fair election next August.

The end of the fifth day of debate on the Nicaraguan situation brought about the compromise which was reached openly on the floor, the Wisconsin Senator accepting the changes proposed. A vote went over until today to permit study of the modified amendment.

For the most part, proponents of the amendment held the floor with Senators Heflin of Alabama, McKellar of Tennessee and Dill of Washington, Democrats, urging its adoption and condemning the use of marines in Nicaragua. Senator Norbeck (Rep.) of South Dakota sided with them, while Senators Edge of New Jersey and Bingham of Connecticut, Republicans, held up the defense position with occasional outbursts.

Says U. S. Is Waging War.
Senator Norris declared that the activities of the Marines against Sandino, Nicaraguan leader, constituted war and he challenged a denial of this contention. On the ground that it was war, he said the President had exceeded his authority in going ahead without consultation with Congress.

"But I am not going to have the Comptroller of the Currency run our foreign affairs," replied Senator Swanson. "By this amendment it would be up to the Comptroller of the Currency to determine when it would be proper to allow funds for the use of troops in foreign countries."

TREND TOWARD AUTONOMY SHOWN IN ALSATIAN VOTE

Two Candidates for Chamber of Deputies, Now in Jail on Plotting Charge, Elected.

By the Associated Press.
STRASBOURG, France, April 24.—Strong popular sentiments toward autonomy expressed in yesterday's voting here have caused intense surprise in nationalistic French centers. Autonomous candidates led the field in several districts of Kolmar, Strasbourg, Altkirch, Muelhausen, Saverne and Haguenau where, by joining hands with the Communists at next Sunday's run-off election, they appear likely to sweep the board.

Returns from Alsace, showing that Ricklin, autonomous candidate now in prison awaiting trial, led the list at Altkirch with 5107 votes, while Rosse, his cell companion, polled 4494 votes at Kolmar, has caused great emotion in Paris as well as in the recovered province. The Socialists met last night to decide whether to unite with the radicals or stand aside for the Communists in districts where they were outvoted.

Cabinet Members in Run-Off.
Three members of the Poincare Cabinet failed to retain their seats in yesterday's vote and must go before the electorate again. They were Paul Painleve, Minister of War, Andre Fallieres, Minister of Labor, and Henri Queuille, Minister of Agriculture, their chances on the second ballot were regarded as good.

Despite a hard campaign against him, Maurice Bokanowski, Minister of Commerce, succeeded in election on the first ballot.

All autonomous candidates are now in jail awaiting trial charged with plotting against the security of the State.

Communists Gained 25 Per Cent Over 1921.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 24.—Communists gained approximately 25 per cent in strength in the national election of Sunday over that of 1921, returns compiled today showed. They polled about 875,000 votes in 1924 and this year they polled 1,084,000. The socialist vote of this year was 1,539,000, about the same as 1919 when the socialists last voted as a party.

TWO DRUNKEN DRIVERS AGREE TO GIVE UP AUTOS FOR YEAR

Both Men Tell Judge Others are Dependent on Them for Living; Two Speeders Take Pledge.

Dependency of Roy C. Smith's widowed mother on him for support prompted Police Judge Rosecan yesterday to suspend a 30-day workhouse sentence and $100 fine for drunken driving on Smith's agreement to refrain from operating an automobile for a year. Smith, a carpenter, who lives at 4431 Page boulevard, was arrested Saturday at Twenty-first and Walnut streets.

David F. Dopp, also a carpenter, of 7227 Bruno avenue, took the same pledge for driving when intoxicated. Execution of a workhouse sentence would cause a hardship on his family, he told the Court.

Two speeders guilty and agreed to quit driving for a month rather than go to the workhouse for 10 days. They are William Stell, 2839 Madison street, and Rudolph Wiedemann, 2833 Cass avenue.

BRIAND HAS HIGH FEVER

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 24.—With the calling in of a specialist, friends of Aristide Briand, Foreign Minister, today expressed concern over his continuing illness. He was forced to his bed eight days ago and a bulletin issued last night said: "The high fever persists; condition stationary." It was signed by doctors Marx and Emery. Prof. Vidal, who attended the Kings of Rumania and Greece, was called in.

Briand was forced to remain in his bed election day when his constituency returned him to the Chamber of Deputies. He also was unable to attend the Council of Ministers last Thursday and Premier Poincare in his stead presented the French proposals for outlawing war to the Cabinet.

Waterman's Number
Seven

...the pen to try before
you buy a fountain pen—

Permanent fountain pen satisfaction requires studied selection. Write-ability is the first test. First choose the pen point which suits you perfectly. Waterman's Number Seven offers a choice of six different styles—fine to broad stub. Next examine the other essential features—a patented spoon-feed which insures even flow of ink, a self-filling device which locks, a clip-cap, and large ink capacity. The holder is hard rubber, the superior material for all quality pens—pleasing to feel, light, stainless and odorless. Satisfied as to utility and personal suitability, then consider beauty. Waterman's No. 7 is a beautiful pen.

$7.00

This is Waterman's new method for determining the pen point you like.

Red—STANDARD—Suits most writers. A splendid correspondence pen. Medium flexibility. For home and general use.
Green—RIGID—Tempered to stand plate hardness. Will not slide even under heavy pressure. Channeled for manifolding. The scribe's friend.
Purple—STIFF—FINE—Writes without pressure. Makes a thin, clear line and small figures with unerring accuracy. Popular with accountants.
Pink—FLEXIBLE; FINE—As resilient as a watch-spring. Fine, tapered point, ground fine to shade at any angle. Loved by stenographers.
Blue—BLUNT—An improved stub-point. This point makes broad line. May be held in any position. Liked by rapid writers.
Yellow—ROUNDED—A different pen point. The tip is ball shape. Makes a heavy, characteristic line without pressure. Suits left-handed writers.

Use Waterman's ink in Waterman's pens.

UNABLE TO FIND CAUSE OF WEST PLAINS EXPLOSION

Coroner's Jury Returns Open Verdict in Death of 40 Persons in Dance Hall

By the Associated Press.
WEST PLAINS, Mo., April 24.—A Coroner's jury, after an extended investigation of the dance-hall explosion which killed 40 persons April 13, was unable to find a cause for it and adjourned yesterday. In its verdict the jury said the victims were killed by the "explosion, collapse of the walls of the dance hall and the general conflagration."

The explosion and fire, the verdict said, originated in the J. M. Wiser garage under the hall, while Wiser was in or around the garage.

PILE SELECTS E. ST. LOUIS AS CONTROL POINT

Runners Will Pass Through St. Louis Friday and Over Eads Bridge—Lap From Union, Mo., 47 Miles.

C. C. Pyle's marathoners, running from Los Angeles to New York, will stop right through St. Louis Friday and stop in East St. Louis, Pyle announced this afternoon after a long conference with East St. Louis officials.

In passing through St. Louis as a control point, or station, Pyle has been forced to stretch the day's lap to about 47 miles, an unusual long jump. It is understood that the refusal of St. Louis business men to make a financial contribution to the promoters of the race sent Pyle to East St. Louis. Here he met with a more cordial reception in the shape of promises of coin. Just how much East St. Louis tossed into Pyle's pocketbook was not divulged.

The runners completed their lap today at Rolla. Tomorrow they will run from Rolla to Sullivan; on Thursday from Sullivan to Union and at 7 o'clock Friday morning they will start out for East St. Louis.

Coming in on U. S. Highway No. 66, the runners will enter St. Louis via Chouteau avenue. They will continue east to Seventh street, north to Washington avenue, and will cross the Mississippi River by way of the Eads Bridge.

To Camp at Almad Temple. On the East Side, the runners will go over Broadway to Collinsville avenue, thence to State street and out State to the Almad Temple which has been tentatively selected as headquarters for the night.

It is estimated by Pyle that the first runners will reach downtown St. Louis at about 1 p. m.

Mayor Doyle of East St. Louis has promised Pyle that a no-parking rule will be in vogue along Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis' chief business thoroughfare, throughout the afternoon of Friday. The street will not, however, be closed to traffic.

A carnival with side show features is accompanying the troupe of 72 runners. The show will be installed in or near Almad Temple. Admission will be charged to the carnival where, among other attractions, each of the runners is introduced to the crowd. This is one of the numerous ways the promoters have of raising funds to defray expenses.

JOHN MANION WINS PRO GOLFERS' WEEKLY ROUND WITH 72 SCORE
John Manion, professional at the Sunset Hills Country Club, was medalist in the weekly round of the St. Louis pro golfers yesterday over the Westborough Country Club course, with a score of 72. He was closely trailed by Art Longworth, Country Club, and Jack Burns, Creve Coeur, each with one stroke less, while Walter Kosman, St. Clair, with 76, was third.

Razorbanks Play All-Stars.
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., April 24.—The University of Arkansas baseball team is sharing its diamond of local celebrities, who are to cross bats with the Razorbanks varsity Saturday in the first of a three-game series arranged by Coach Jeff Farris. The other two games are to be played next week, Farris said.

Slattery Defeats Vidabek.
BUFFALO, N. Y., April 24.—Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo defeated Billy Vidabek of Bayonne, N. J., in a 10-round bout here last night. Slattery scored a knockout in the eighth and had Vidabek groggy when the bell rang. Slattery weighed 169½; Vidabek 175.

Zivic Outpoints McCarthy.
CHICAGO, April 24.—Jack Zivic, Pittsburgh welterweight, required five rounds to solve Jack McCarthy's elusive, tantalizing style last night. After that he found the range and scored enough points to win the judges' decision over the Chicago fighter in 10 close rounds.

KANSAS AND MISSOURI IN DUAL TENNIS MEET
COLUMBIA, Mo., April 24.—Pete Lasso, doughy coal miner from Scranton, Pa., who at one time held the welterweight championship, whipped Tony Marullo of New Orleans in his 10-round debut here tonight as a light-heavyweight. Lasso weighed 165½. Marullo 171.

Alexander, Haines, Roush and Pennock Among Players Who Have Made Good Showing.

By John J. McGraw, Manager New York Giants.

BOSTON, April 24.—The striking feature of the big league races for the early days is the unmistakable evidence of a serious and determined effort on part of the veterans to get ready. I can name off-hand 10 or 12 players who have done no more hard and conscientious training than they have done since kids. The result speaks for itself. The veterans face a fight in the air and have prepared themselves accordingly.

The snappy hard-fought games in both leagues and the consequent enthusiasm of the fans has been largely due to the work of these old stars. Their physical training has told.

The actual scores have not yet shown the strength of the clubs enough to point to the probable contenders. Right now, it is a matter of individuals.

To illustrate my point if how the veterans have worked, I wonder if fans have noticed the showing of Eddie Roush, Grover Alexander, Bill Sherd, Jess Haines, Arthur Nehf, Eppa Rixey and Adolph Lague. Every one was off with the gun.

Over in the American League, Pennock started off apparently as good as ever. Marberry is also in shape.

Vance is at his best.

The work of Dazzy Vance in winning two games indicates that he is in his old-time form. Dave Bancroft, Max Carey are also among the veterans who are doing a wonderful thing for baseball to see the veterans going like that.

The good start of the Giants has been largely due to the way Lefty O'Doul and Andy Cohen have more than lived up to expectations. Tom Frank Hogan joined us just at the right time and has been all that we expected of him, and more. His spirit is wonderful. Cohen has the winning spirit and all kinds of courage. The success of these newcomers and the work on our young pitchers has started the Giants off nicely. The Yanks have run pretty close to hitting form.

The Cincinnati club has fooled a lot of calamity forecasters. They have shown a decided punch and apparently are getting good pitching. They seem to have a good man in Purdy. Naturally, Red fans are pleased at the way Eppa Rixey is going. Good pitching will take the Reds a long way.

As I suspected, the Cubs already have felt Guyler's punch in the batting order. Twice already he has knocked in the winning run. Altogether the races are starting off with a bang, but it may be a month before all the clubs settle into their natural grooves.

High Score broke fast and hard, and from the start, shook off Chester and drew into a long lead. The jockey, Chester, displayed good speed away from the barrier, and the inside during stretch run and struck the fence, covered the ground and outstayed the field. Later moved up fast running the turn into the stretch but failed to catch. Sun Roman, who never broke the fence, took a phine broke slow and was never a factor. Battle Axe broke in a tangle. Kopee stumbled soon after.

ARMY SIGNS TWO-YEAR FOOTBALL AGREEMENT WITH ILLINOIS

ELEVEN MEET IN FIRST GAME IN FALL OF '29

Return Engagement Will Be Played in East in 1930—Exact Dates Have Not Been Fixed.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, April 24.—Seeking to fill the hole left in its schedule by the breaking off of athletic relations with the Naval Academy, the Army has signed a home and home contract with the University of Illinois for football games in 1929 and 1930.

Under the agreement, formally approved by the Secretary of War, the Army will travel to Urbana to meet the Illinois in November of next year. Illinois will come East for the return game against the Cadets either at New York or West Point, in the same month of 1930. The exact dates have not yet been fixed. Football observers saw in the agreement additional confirmation of the belief that there was little chance of the Navy and Army adjusting their differences over eligibility rules for some years to come at least.

The Cadets' schedule for this year calls for a game either at New York or West Point against Nebraska on Nov. 24, the date on which the traditional struggle with the Navy would have been staged. Notre Dame is met at New York on Nov. 10 this year, but will take over the last spot on Army's schedule the following year. Observers expected that Nebraska, with which the Cadets have only a one year contract, would be dropped after 1928 and the Illinois substituted in the vacant place—probably on Nov. 9, 1929, and a corresponding date in 1930.

The Cadets' trip West to meet the Illinois in 1929 will mark the first time the soldiers have played an inter-sectional opponent in the West. It will also be the first time the Army has clashed with a "Big Ten" team since Chicago was defeated at West Point in 1903.

WESTERN ASSOCIATION BEGINS SEASON TODAY

By the Associated Press. TOPEKA, April 24.—Hoping to escape the turmoil caused by switching franchises in mid-season, and the bad weather handicap of last year, the six-club Western Association opens its baseball season today with initial games at Topeka, Joplin and Muskogee. Independence, Kas., the league's newcomer, replacing Okmulgee, Okla., opens at Topeka; Springfield, Mo., opens at Fort Smith, the lone Arkansas member. Plays at Muskogee. After the three-game series opener Topeka goes to Independence, Joplin to Springfield and Muskogee to Fort Smith to complete the opening day ceremonies.

Londos Beats Gardini.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, April 24.—Jim Londos of Greece defeated Renato Gardini of Italy in the main event of the Seventy-first Regiment Army wrestling card last night after one hour 22 minutes and 22 seconds of hard grappling. Londos weighed 134 pounds and his opponent 136 pounds.

MARYLAND RACE BOARD APPROVES SINCLAIRENTRIES

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, April 24.—Race horses owned by Harry F. Sinclair were once more free to appear on Maryland tracks by action late yesterday of the State Racing Commission.

A ruling which barred Sinclair's horses, including those of the Ranocous Stable, in which the oil man holds a part ownership, was rescinded by unanimous vote of the commission, as a result of Sinclair's acquittal of charges on which he was tried at Washington.

Chairman James A. Latane and Jervis Spencer Jr., Democratic members of the commission, voted the resolution in a meeting at which John F. Mudd, third member, was not present, but they announced that he had concurred in their action by telephone from Havre De Grace.

A letter to the four major tracks in the State, at Pimlico, Havre De Grace, Bowie and Laurel, sent by the commission, said:

tanks and field guns.—News Item

THE wooden steed that used to prance

Around the ring in dear old France,

The race no longer runs.

And in his place they've filled the rank.

With autos, airplanes, field guns,

tanks

And other war-like guns.

In the meantime up at the North Pole where Santa Claus factory is located, the rocking horse is making his last stand.

Even the clothes horse is being supplanted by an electric drying machine.

And the race horse isn't any too secure in his position.

The king of sports has been going to the dogs for some time.

Horses are still used for playing polo but the Polo Grounds in New York are used for nothing but baseball, football and prize fights, which shows the way the wind blows.

Hope after that early strong advantage remained a safe five points ahead most of the time.

Hoppe Leads in Layton Contest

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, April 24.—While Hoppe of New York, leads Johnny Layton of St. Louis, national three-cushion billiard champion, by 100 to 92 after the first day's work of 113 innings of play yesterday in their 600-point three-cushion match. The match will be in progress all week, concluding Saturday night.

The champion won the afternoon block, 59 to 44, but Hoppe came back strong in the evening block to acquire 20 points while Layton was scoring 8 in 21 innings. The New Yorker maintained his advantage during the 42 slow rounds during which Layton failed to play up to his best form.

Hoppe after that early strong advantage remained a safe five points ahead most of the time.

THREE ONE-FALL BOUTS FEATURE WRESTLING CARD

By Dent McKimming.

In spite of the apparent swing in sentiment here toward boxing and away from wrestling since the Stecher-Lewis bout of last February, Promoter Tom Packs will once more try to pack the Coliseum with a program of head squeezing and arm twisting. His present effort will be in the nature of an all-star cast in which three bouts will hold equal prominence, each being restricted to one fall. A fourth bout, in the nature of a preliminary, will open the show, Friday night.

Some novelty is offered in one-fall matches to a finish. Heretofore, it has been the practice here to hold finish matches of two out of three falls. In New York and Philadelphia, the one-fall match has proved popular, the promoters like it and Packs will introduce it here.

At least two new characters will be included in the cast, Friday night. Nat Pandleton, Olympic champion in 1920, and victor over the European champion, Robert Roth, at Paris in 1924, will make his bow here against Renato Gardini. The other newcomer is Jack Humberto, a Spaniard, a protégé of Charley Rentrop of Little Rock. He will oppose Jim London. The other top-line bout will bring together Paul Jones and Dick Drake.

It is Packs' announced plan to retain the winners of these three bouts on future cards and the losers. For Pandleton and Humberto, therefore, the match will be especially significant.

Don't Be "Skinny" and Scrawny!
Build Up Weight in 3 Weeks With New Combination of YEAST and IRON—or Pay Nothing

Pleasant
Because Tasteless

"I Gained 10 Pounds!"
"For over a year I had no energy or ambition. My complexion was muddy; I could not sleep at night.
I fell off in weight until I was
but a shadow of my former self.
After taking one treatment of IRONIZED YEAST I feel like a new woman. My complexion has cleared up wonderfully. I have gained 10 pounds and I am full of energy."—(Mrs.) M. B. Chicago, Ill.

It seems incredible how fast IRONIZED YEAST adds pounds of good firm flesh—on women and men, children and old people. Doctors know the value of vegetable iron and yeast in building up and improving the body. IRONIZED YEAST, in a highly concentrated form, contains all the blood-building properties of vegetable iron with yeast.

New Complexion for You
People ask—what is the magic in IRONIZED YEAST that transforms sallow, lifeless, faded
complexions into the fresh, smooth, lovely skin
of early girlhood? Wrinkles disappear. Eyes renew the sparkle of youth. Hollows fill out.
Ironized Yeast is two topics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt and which makes malt so beneficial. It is especially cultured yeast concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value.

Only when Yeast is ironized in this way is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening value of Yeast. That's why IRONIZED YEAST works
so quickly. So get a generous test treatment—nice, tasty tablets in a handy bottle. No nausea, puffy taste. Do not cause gas or bloating. Safe for everybody—containing no harmful drugs.

Try It on "Money-Back" Offer
Go to any drug store and get a full size treatment. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with effects, ask for your money back. It will be refunded immediately. If inconvenient to buy from drugist, send $1.00 to the IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 169-E.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who objects to having weight increased to normal—G. I. Y. Co.

ELEONORA SEARS AT 44, WALKS 74 MILES IN DAY

Elapsed Time 17 Hours and 15 Minutes, Walking Time 16 Hours 50 Minutes.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, April 24.—After hiking 74 miles to this city from Newport, R. I., the last 25 miles through a drenching rain. Miss Eleonora Sears, 44 years old, society woman, rested today, content with her walking time of 16 hours
and 50 minutes.

She ran up the steps of her Beacon street home at 9:15 o'clock
last night, 17 hours and 15 minutes after starting from the Newport Casino shortly before sunrise yesterday morning.

Three male pacers had been pretty much used up, although none of them walked steadily, but Miss Sears' only visible ailment
was a limp in her left foot.

The party stopped twice, once
at Taunton, the half way mark, for rest, and the second time in Boston for rest and food.

Although the hike was unannounced the former tennis star was quickly recognized as she strode
into Taunton about noon followed by a beach wagon and a roadster,
which carried refreshments and
extra walking shoes and stockings.
In the roadster was George Low-
mer of New York, who when traffic threatened to slow progress,
went ahead to solicit co-operation of police in clearing the way for the walkers. In the earlier stages of the jaunt the party held to street or highway but on entering the outskirts of the city they abandoned the public way in favor of the sidewalks.

Miss Sears negotiated the first 19 miles of the journey at an average of four miles an hour, taking matters easily in order to conserve strength for the home stretch.

From Fall River she began to pick up speed and by the time she had negotiated the 42 miles to Taunton, she was clipping along at six miles an hour. For the remainder of the trip, although faced by a number of long grades, she never fell below a four-mile average.

Yesterday's walk was the longest but one which Miss Sears had made in the course of years of hiking. In 1912 she walked from Burlingame to Demonte, Cal., a distance of 103 miles in 49 hours
and 50 minutes.

Twice in recent years she has done the 47 miles between Providence, R. I., and this city, the last time in 9 hours and 53 minutes.

ST. LOUIS U. GLEE CLUB ENDS CONCERT SEASON

Singers in Final Appearance Here After a Short Tour of the State.

The Glee Club of the St. Louis University, which has been paying visits to several cities in the State during the past week, wound up its season last night with a concert in the University auditorium. A large crowd thoroughly enjoyed the program which was a long one and, for the most part,
finely rendered.

A number of soloists took part in the entertainment. David Pohlman was heard on the violin and John Ferrara, tenor, and Salvatore Castanara, baritone, sang several numbers. Castanara is a student at the University. His home is in Mexico and he has a voice of great promise. Ferrara sang
"Rimlanto" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." Castan-ara chose for his selection "Duna"
and "La Paloma."

The Glee Club gave the following numbers: "Drakes Drum," by Coleridge Taylor; "Autumn Sea,"
by Gerick; "On the Wings of Song," by Mendelssohn; "The Old Refrain," by Kreisler; "Etern the Tear and the Smile," by Forsyth, and "Yellow Boreen," by the same man; a Negro spiritual, "On My Way to Heaven," Perkins; "The Good Ship Robador," Cadman's
"Memories," O'Hara's "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," and an original composition by Prof.
George T. Devereaux, and Rev.
William Doyle, S. J., "Alma Mater."

SINCLAIR LEWIS, NOVELIST, TO WED AMERICAN WRITER

By the Associated Press.
ROME, April 24.—The engagement of Sinclair Lewis, the American novelist, and Miss Dorothy

Thompson, American writer, was announced yesterday by Miss Thompson and confirmed by Miss Thompson at Naples. Their marriage will take place probably in London
about the middle of May.
This is the culmination of a romance that began at a formal tea
for foreign correspondents in the Berlin Foreign Office last July.

Miss Thompson, who just a few days previously had been divorced
from the Hungarian writer, Dr.
Joseph Bard, met Sinclair Lewis
there; he had been definitely separated from his wife some months earlier. His wife obtained a divorce recently in Reno, Nev., on ground of desertion.

Lewis, after eight months in Berlin—his record for residence anywhere, he says—suddenly darted
southward, stopping at Naples.
He then returned to Naples, and the announcement of his engagement followed.

Around the clock

Commerce

8 A. M.
—It is the beginning of a new day at "Commerce," southeast corner of Broadway and Olive Street, where thousands of St.
Louisans daily conduct their financial transactions. The long corridors, deserted by night, except by alert guards, have begun to echo with the noise of preparation for the new day.

9 A. M.
—Employees are at their posts,
officers at their desks, as the doors of this big bank swing open. Customers already are lining up in the Commercial and Savings departments. At the same time, the ponderous
steel gateways of the Safe Deposit Department move ajar
like stiff-shouldered sentinels,
for those who call to visit their treasure boxes.

10 A. M.
—An ever-growing stream of humanity is finding its way through the portals of "Commerce" to enjoy its faithful and courteous service. And in the Transit, Mailing and Bookkeeping departments, where hundreds of employees are clicking away at machines, making entries in books, or passing methodically to and fro, the busy hum reminds one of a well organized factory at high speed.

11 A. M.
—Still the crowds keep coming: Savers who smilingly add to their emergency funds; patrons who call at the Trust Department to avail themselves of its services in handling estates, wills, life insurance trusts and other matters; representatives of commercial depositors, who come to add to checking accounts, or obtain needed money; executives, who come to borrow for expansions or improvements; bond buyers,
who call to purchase safe and reliable offerings; travelers,
who find in the well-equipped Foreign Department the complete service they need; and the Safe Deposit patron, who comes to clip a coupon, add a valuable paper or check over those already here.

12 (Noon) to 2 P. M.
—The throngs that called earlier are now supplanted by new groups and the rush of business continues up to the last minute.

2 P. M.
—When the windows begin to close, the general public impression is that the day's work at the bank is ended. On the contrary, the hardest part of the day is just starting for tellers, bookkeepers, and clerks,
who, before departure, must see that books balance and that checks are on their way to collection.

3 P. M. to 6 P. M.
—In this period the day's activities have come to an end, the Safe Deposit and Bond Depart-

majority of the employees departing between that hour and 5.

6 P. M. to 8 A. M.

only the vigilant guards remain,
each detailed to a specific duty
in the elaborate system that protects your money and valuables at "Commerce."

STOCK PRICE TREND AGAIN IRREGULAR

Total Sales Fall Below
3,000,000-Share Mark for
First Full Session Since March 9—Gains Predominate at Close.

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Following are the Associated Press stock averages:

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market in reflection of the general uneasiness over the recent stiffening of money rates. Prices sold off at the opening, rallied sharply before the end of the first half hour, sold down again in the early afternoon and turned sharply upward at the close. Final quotations were irregular, but gains predominated.

Total sales fell below the 3,000,000-share mark for the first full session since March 9. Quarterly reports of the United States Steel and General Motors corporations were published after the close of the market. Steel earned $2.11 a share on the common as against $1.95 in the last quarter of 1927 and $2.93 in the first quarter of 1927, which was prior to the distribution of the 40 per cent stock dividend. General Motors earned $2.36 on the common as against $2.98 in the same period a year ago. Both stocks were in brisk demand at the close.

Steel showing a net gain of 1 1/2 at 145 1/2 and General Motors 1/2 at 147 1/2, the day 4 points higher at 147 1/2. Marking up of the renewal rate on call money to 5 per cent followed by the calling of about $10,000,000 in loans, had a tendency to dampen bullish sentiment. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. Raising of the Richmond Federal reserve discount bank rate to 4 1/2 per cent followed by similar action by the Minneapolis institution after the close, brings the number of increases to 5 and leads to the belief that the higher rate will be put into effect by all central banks.

There is some difference of opinion, however, as to whether a rate increase in the New York bank will come this week or next.

Tobacco Decline.
Tobacco stocks, which turned weak yesterday, following the announcement of cigarette price cuts, were again under pressure today, despite reassuring statements of leading executives that the reductions probably will lead to increased profits. Schulte Retail Stores was in brisk demand, preceding the announcement of a 2 per cent stock dividend, after the close of the market, payable 1/2 per cent quarterly. Except for the Liggett & Myers issues, which went to new low levels for the year, the losses in the tobaccos were held to a point or two.

Violent fluctuations took place in some of the high priced industrials and rails. Delaware and Hudson opened 1/4 points lower at 213, rallied to new high at 214 1/2, broke to 218, rebounded to 215, and then sank back to 213 1/2. Wright Aeronautical rallied from the opening price of 124 1/2 to 136 and then eased to 134, up 1/2 points net. New York Central, which opened at 250, sank to 230, rallied to 238 and eased to 232, up 46 points net, in odd lot trading. Railroads rallied from a low of 172 to 179 and closed at 177, up 5 1/2 net.

Selling pressure today was most effective against such issues as American Radiator, Bethlehem Steel preferred, Coca Cola, Commercial Solvents, Midland Steel Products preferred, Southern Dairies B and Standard Milkeries.

Some New Peaks for Year.
New peak prices for the year, or longer, were registered by more than 20 stocks, the list including Mexican Steels, Oil, Hudson B and Manhattan, Park & Tilford, T. S. Leather common and the "A" stock, Cushman, Interboro Rapid Transit, Third Avenue, Lewis preferred, Yale & Towne and several of the ordinary inactive rails.

Foreign exchanges moved slower with rather sharp declines in the Spanish, Japanese and Portuguese rates. Sterling cables ruled 2-3/4 of a cent lower around $4.95 1/2.

SHARES SOLD

NEW YORK, April 24.—Total sales, 2,827,000 shares, compared with 3,338,000 yesterday, a 247,000 a week ago and 1,902,400 a year ago. Total sales from Jan. 1 to date, 255,268,000 shares, compared with 1,612,200 a year ago.

GAS for Refrigeration

Gas, the invisible, dependable servant of the home, has become ambitious. For years it faithfully cooked meals for millions. Now it is ready to assume another household duty—refrigeration.

Not until it had become thoroughly proficient in this new service would it attempt the important task of food protection in the home. Grueling tests failed to find a flaw in its performance. Six years of actual, practical service failed to find a fault in its efficiency. Now it is ready to enter the home and take up its new duty.

It protects food, makes ice cubes, freezes ices and creams, and makes possible the preparation of many new and delightful dishes. It makes no noise, requires no attention and has no moving parts to be replaced. It is as near perfect as mechanical refrigeration can be, yet it costs no more than ordinary methods of refrigeration. And it can be purchased on monthly payments.

DRIVER ADMITS LEAVING SCENE OF ACCIDENT

An automobile accident in which a driver fled from the scene has been cleared up with the arrest of Charles Christoff, 603 Fassen street.

Elgie Sutton, 5331 Delmar boulevard, was run down and seriously injured, at Broadway and Olive street, Sunday night, by an automobile which did not stop. A witness reported a license number, which had been issued to Christoff.

Christoff, questioned by police, sent them on a futile chase by relating that he had sold his automobile on Sunday to "Joe Smith," a printer, living at a downtown hotel. A checkup disclosed no such man was registered at the hotel named by Christoff. The latter then confessed the man was fictitious. He admitted driving the car which struck Sutton, after which he drove the machine to an East St. Louis garage and left it, giving his name as "G. Allen." Police found the car in the garage, with the left fender and headlights dented. Charges of felonious wounding and flight were placed against Christoff.

East St. Louis Woman Dies After Street Car Hits Auto

Mrs. Della Bryan, 42 years old, died at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, last night of injuries suffered April 5, when an automobile in which she was riding was struck by a street car.

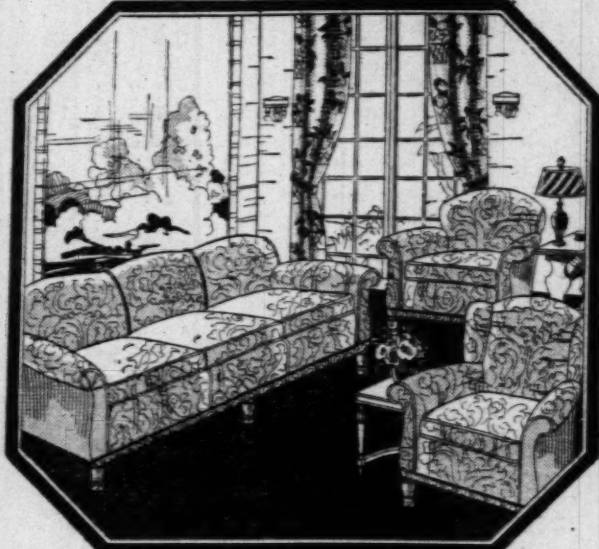

Mrs. Bryan's husband, who was driving the automobile, told police he had stopped for the boulevard at Twenty-third and State streets and that, as he started the automobile forward the street car crashed into its side, overturning the machine. The Bryan home is at 1406 North Thirty-fifth street.

Woman's Skull Fractured in Auto Crash

Mrs. Mandel Van Dike, 4900 Euclid terrace, suffered skull fracture yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which she was riding with her husband was struck by a car driven by John Daniel, 2781 St. Vincent avenue, at Nineteenth street and Washington avenue.

$210,000,000 TAX CUT DECIDED ON BY SENATE GROUP

Republican Majority on Finance Committee Revises Downward House Decrease of $290,000,000.

SMOOT SUBMITS VIEWS OF G. O. P.

Program Knocks Out Provision of Lower Chamber for Retroactive Corporation Levy Reduction.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Revision downward of the House $290,000,000 tax reduction bill to $210,000,000 was decided upon today by the Republican majority of the Senate Finance Committee.

The $210,000,000 program was laid before the committee by Chairman Smoot on behalf of the Republicans who have a majority of 11 to 9 on the committee. The Democrats, who are urging a $290,000,000 reduction, took it under consideration and another meeting will be held Thursday, when the majority group expects to revise the bill as proposed today. The Republican program follows:

Reduction of the corporation tax from 15 to 12 1/2 per cent, loss in revenue $82,000,000. Repeal of the automobile tax, loss, $66,000,000.

Repeal of the estate tax, loss $7,000,000.

Revision of the surtax rates on incomes between $18,000 and $70,000, loss $25,000,000.

Increase in the exemption allowed corporations from $2000 to $2000, loss $12,000,000.

Increase in the exemption under the admission tax from 75 cents to $1, loss $17,000,000.

Repeal of the taxes on cereal beverages, loss $1,120,000.

The program knocks out the House provision to allow a reduction in the corporation tax to apply retroactively on the basis of the taxable year of 1927. It does provide, however, that the proposed cut in the surtax rate should apply retroactively on last year's income, which is payable this year, and which would mean the return of $25,000,000 to individual taxpayers on this year's taxes.

The program also restores the full rate of 2 per cent asked on transfers of capital stock, involving $8,000,000, and the tax on produce exchange sales, involving $3,000,000, which the House voted to repeal.

U. S. STEEL EARNS $40,934,032 IN FIRST QUARTER OF 1928

Gain of $9,000,000 Since Preceding Quarter But $5,000,000 Less Than in Like Period in 1927.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Total earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the first quarter of 1928 amounted to $40,934,032 after expenses, taxes and interest, compared with $31,247,529 in the preceding quarter, and $45,554,725 in the first quarter of 1927.

The directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on the common stock and preferred.

The net income for the quarter was $25,907,139 against $17,683,492 in the preceding three months and $20,924,238 in the first quarter of 1927. A deficit of $4,962,499 was reported for the last quarter of 1927 after provision for preferred and common dividends amounting to $18,755,332.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 24.—General Motors Corporation ended $1.54 a share on the common stock in the first quarter of 1928, compared with $1.50 a share in the same period 1927. Net earnings rose to $69,468,576, an increase of $16,917,166 over the first quarter last year.

U. S. AND SOVIET TRADE $80,000,000 FOR SIX MONTHS

American Purchases Totalled $8,148,829 for Half Year Period Ending March 31.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Trade between the United States and Soviet Russia for the six months ended March 31, was the largest for any half year period, reaching $80,000,000, the Amtorg Trading Corporation reports. The volume in the preceding six months was $78,000,000. The largest group of purchases made here during the period was raw materials, including cotton, metals and rubber.

Sales of Soviet products here by the Amtorg, the Centrosoyuz and the Selkhozgiz, representing Soviet co-operatives in this country, amounted to $3,148,829 for the half year. Estimating the value of manganese exports from Russia to this country and of sales of Soviet products by American companies under special contracts at more than $6,000,000, the total of $80,000,000 for Soviet trade was obtained, the report said.

Baron Von Huenefeld Praises Pilot Schiller for Daring Relief Flight Through Storm

Head of Atlantic Flyers Tells of Amazing Surprise on Seeing Plane Reach Greenly Island From Lake Ste. Agnes.

By BARON VON HUENEFELD, Commander of the German Junkers Airplane, Bremen, on Her Trans-Atlantic Flight.

(Copyright, 1928.)

SIXTH INSTALLMENT.

GREENLY ISLAND, Via Point Amour, April 24.—We now have been on our island refuge for more than a week. It has been a week that has seen us first grateful to Providence for bringing us here when we had begun to despair of a chance to find a landing ground when our fuel was almost gone and that, latterly, has been full of anxiety to be under way again and reach our ultimate destination, New York.

Now we are consumed with yearning to repair our Bremen and to be pointing our nose towards the clouds again, on the last leg of this amazing journey. With Dame Fortune me to smile on us, as she seems always to do, it should now be a matter of only a few days before this adventure sees its culmination.

Those persons who have made such stupendous efforts to reach us here and to lend us their assistance have gone through much to bring us the help that we must have in order to fly away from Greenly. To the resourceful qualities of the Canadian pilot, "Duke" Schiller, so much credit is due, and to those who accompanied him here and stayed with us, as well. Schiller and Dr. Cuisinier came here by air from their own airplane under flying conditions of which the world knows little, but which, to these gentlemen who serve the fringe of civilization with their airplane service, are almost normal. It seems.

Fog and Blizzards.

Fog and blizzards are still besetting this coast and all the coast line which extends from here to the Gulf of St. Lawrence narrows becomes a broad river.

As we have heard of it from those modest fellows, the conditions entail a taking off from the surface of a frozen lake, and in their own airframe, at a place in the Laurentide Mountains, called Lake St. Agnes, from which point a flight is made over high mountains, completely covered with snow and in which there is practically no sign of human habitation, except the occasional camps of the people who cut down the huge Canadian timbers.

There is practically no place where a landing might be made in this part of the journey, for the mountains are covered with forests and, were one to come down on some isolated lake, he might easily be in an impassable situation to the one who would be faced when flying across Labrador in the Bremen.

Fog and snow storms still beset the region, even at this late season of the year when the river and gulf are beginning to be open for ships again after the long winter. The route followed by Schiller and Cuisinier took them over these mountains and back over the water again at what I believe is called the Manicouagan River, Manicouagan being a name which the people of the river and gulf have for the fogs which continually blanket their shores.

From Manicouagan River the coast line is followed into a big night where the river broadens into the bosom of the gulf and so, for 100 miles, until Seven Islands Bay, where a landing is made upon the ice and refueling attended to.

Left in Blinding Snow Storm.

It was on Saturday that those good friends of ours reached the Bay of Seven Islands, and there they slept on Saturday night, leaving at the break of day on Sunday in a blinding snow storm which made the wise acres of the countryside shake their heads and the fellows who were coming into the wilderness to find us.

Through this blinding storm those gallant friends of ours flew on and on, over a country and on and on, for many long miles a landing would be a matter of impossibility. On these shores, which I have never seen, but which I expect to see in a day or two now, there is practically no place where a landing could be made and there is no ice in the gulf where a makeshift air-drome can be found.

What one needs for landing fields for these planes that are equipped with skis is a country and a place where the river broadens into the gulf where there is a heavy and smooth collection of shore ice, and this part of the journey below Seven Islands on the way to Natskwan is devoid of such facilities. As Natskwan is approached, however, there are better places for landing fields again, and our rescuers must have felt easier in their hearts as they saw this better terrain winging underneath them and knew that they were getting closer to their destination. At length, skirting the coast line where it turns almost due north and veers toward Labrador along the straits of Belle Isle, they fought their way to us and a perfect landing was effected, first at the long point of Blanc Sablon, where, seeing people on the ground, Schiller believed that he had found us. They waved him on toward us, however, and within five minutes he had brought his plane to rest at the island itself.

Marooned Flyers Amazed.

To say that we were amazed is to put it in the mildest terms. We believed that we must have seen some new miracle of this northern desert and could scarcely believe our eyes. Almost we had to clasp the hands of these friends from the skies before we could believe that our eyes were not again playing the tricks that they played in the long hours of fatigue that marked the latter stages of our journey in our Bremen across the Atlantic ocean.

We had no idea whence came these brave new comrades, but we knew that they had come to befriend us and to ascertain what our condition might be and what steps must be taken to enable us to continue our journey to New York. What the hardships and perils of that flight over the northern wilderness in that light airplane had been, we did not know, but we were more than delighted that help should come in the manner, by our own means of transport, from the air.

As soon as our greetings had been exchanged and the Bremen given an inspection where the landing and fuel had been made, we sat together in Le Temple's comfortable lighthouse and discussed ways and means and the possibility of flying away in the Bremen and of entering New York from the relief plane which had been our original intention.

Tanks Almost Empty.

Koehl and Fitzmaurice firmly believed that, by putting more benzol in our almost empty tanks, obtaining a new propeller and by repairing our under carriage and substituting skis for our wheels, a take-off could be made and a further flight accomplished. To Schiller and Cuisinier, of course, we must leave the question to transport, but they were of one mind that it would be possible to fly back to the lake repairs and fuel and return with these to Greenly Island to fit the Bremen for the air.

In what way should this be done? Discussions on this topic followed and a decision was reached that the Fitzmaurice should fly back up over this barren country of the Gulf of St. Lawrence's north coast, with Schiller at the controls of his ship, and that on arrival at Murray Bay, repair pieces and benzol would be secured from the outside world with all possible speed and dispatch, and that these would be brought back by Schiller, or if his plane did not prove sufficiently large for the task, in a larger craft, if one could be found.

The margin of safety, of course would be enhanced, if a larger airplane could be found to bring these parts to us, though to this gallant flyer, Schiller, the question of his personal safety is one of the last things for consideration when there is work to be done.

Fitzmaurice Departs.

So Fitzmaurice and Schiller flew away again and left me and Koehl on our island with Dr. Cuisinier and his engineer, Thibault, to make the preparations for the return journey. To Natskwan, to Seven Islands again to Lake St. Agnes, they made their way while we followed their progress as best we could and with anxious hearts through the slight means of communication which the outposts of the world have to offer.

At length we heard that the lake at St. Agnes had been reached and that another step in the journey to New York, an actual step, for there remained steps to be retraced and much work to be done when the returning was finished, but a further achievement, nevertheless, was set down again to wait, filling in the long hours that must elapse before Fitzmaurice could return to us by doing what preparations were possible in preparing the Bremen for her repairs.

Awaiting Ford Plane.

Now we hear that Fitzmaurice is on his way to us again in another airplane, which is flown by Bernt Balchen, who has crossed the Atlantic himself by air, in company with your Commander Byrd, and as this is written, we are awaiting their arrival with the precious gallons of benzol and the parts to repair our Bremen that will enable us to continue our expedition. (To be continued.)

BREMEN REPAIRED, BUT SNOW DELAYS TAKE-OFF ON ISLE

Ford Relief Plane Which Reached Greenly Yesterday Also Held Back by Weather.

JUNKERS READY TO COMPLETE TRIP

Parts Carried to Island by Tri-Motored Craft Used to Make Repairs on German Ship.

By the Canadian Press.

LAKE STE. AGNES, Quebec, April 24.—A report received by the Canadian Transcontinental Airways here this morning said the Bremen and the Ford relief plane were storm bound at Greenly Island.

The message received by Robert Cannon of the company said snow was falling and a strong northeast wind blowing over the tiny island where the trans-Atlantic plane made a crash landing 11 days ago. The Bremen was said to have been put in readiness for continuing its flight to New York with the parts carried to Greenly Island yesterday by the Ford plane.

FLYERS OVERJOYED AT GETTING REPAIRS

By CHARLES J. V. MURPHY, A Staff Correspondent of the New York World.

GREENLY ISLAND, Labrador, via Fogo, April 24.—Tomorrow, perhaps, this tiny island will slip from the ken of the world. The remnants of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen will grind out a throaty vocabulary, and as swiftly as it came will vanish, a dissolving dot against a gray horizon.

The world and a group of newspapermen, officially representing the city of New York, dropped out of the Labrador sky yesterday, carrying in its corridor-like fuselage the repair parts for which Capt. Koehl and Baron von Huenefeld have waited 12 days.

Bernt Balchen, pilot of the relief plane, which landed on the island, brought it down on mushy, melting ice as gracefully as a bird.

Hearty Welcome by Flyers.

It had scarcely touched the ground before the Bremen and the stocky, broad-shouldered pilot of the Bremen were dashing for its doors.

"Ach, das ist gut," shouted the Bremen, his mouth wide open in joy, and the monole trembled in his eye.

"Look, Koehl, look here," he cried.

He had the door opened, and his eyes had fallen delightedly on what he carried—a new propeller for the Bremen, a dozen cans of petrol, new wheels and other supplies, 1200 pounds of them.

He showed his head into the fuselage, seized a can of petrol and lifted it to the ground. Then he clasped the Baron and the two danced madly around the can, shouting and laughing almost hysterically.

Not even the parade of the four men from the Alliance relief plane, Balchen, Maj. Fitzmaurice, the Junkers mechanic and this correspondent, interrupted that mad mazurka on the ice.

Captain Gives Praise.

"You are such lovely fellows, such lovely fellows," repeated the Captain.

In the long days he has been here, he has been learning English. "Not for months did I think I should get away, and I want so much to fly my Bremen again," he exclaimed.

We were just a few black dots on a sea of ice, with the low-hung, nasty swell of Greenly Island in the background. But to us all it seems as if we had met at the crossroads of the world. The Bremen with his long great coat, ever so much like that of the former Crown Prince, his monole and snow-stained spats, and Koehl beside himself with joy, signing and shouting like a madman, and the grip he and Floyd Bennett flew from New York to Detroit Wednesday, Balchen did not give up. The motor chewed in great gulps of air under full throttle, but the ship did not budge.

A dozen men drew around, and willingly hopped to it. By 5 o'clock the plane was free. Still the trouble was just beginning.

Crammed into the plane, not specially built for long distance flights, but just a standard ship reconnoitered for this emergency, was a tremendous load, a little more than a ton under the load with which Byrd took off for France.

The three motors of the plane use a lot of gas, and it was necessary for the ship to take on 450 gallons for the 1200-mile flight from Seven Islands to Greenly Island.

Gainsborough Which Brought $360,000

A RECORD price was set for American auctions when the painting (pictured here), "The Harvest Wagon," by Gainsborough, was sold in New York to Sir Joseph Duveen, dealer, for $350,000. It was part of the collection of the late Elbert H. Gary, which brought a total of more than $2,000,000.

Temple Buried 3500 Years Found in Iraq

Harvard Expedition Unearths Ancient Coat of Mail, Incense Burner and Wealth of Pottery Near Kerkuk.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Mesopotamia has given up further evidence of its ancient civilization at the hands of archaeologists.

The joint expedition of the American School of Oriental Research at Bagdad and Harvard University has unearthed at Yargon Tepa, near Kerkuk, Iraq, an enormous temple believed by Dr. Edward Chiera, head of the expedition, to have been buried for 3500 years. Eighty-four large rooms of the temple have thus far been excavated, yielding more than 1200 tablets, a wealth of pottery and what is believed to be the oldest coat of mail ever found in Iraq.

Reporting his discoveries to Dr. George A. Barton of this city, director of the Bagdad school, Dr. Chiera said one of the most remarkable discoveries in the temple was fragments of a mural painting on the plaster of a corridor.

Plane Ready for Repairs.

While waiting for help, the Captain and the Baron have not been idle. With the aid of Eugene Thibault, mechanic, and Dr. Louis Cuisinier, who flew here with "Duke" Schiller on the first relief plane, they have been working hard to be ready to start as soon as possible, so we have done good work.

The serious-minded Junkers mechanic, Koepfen, smiled.

"We shall be starting by tomorrow, Herr Captain," he said.

Perhaps the crew of the Bremen will never know what Balchen did for them. Perhaps Fitzmaurice will tell them he saw it all and whistled in mute amazement. With a single gesture, the little Norseman justified the confidence Commander Richard Byrd placed in him.

The relief plane landed at Seven Islands, Quebec, Sunday, completing a 250-mile flight from Murray Bay. It was then 10 o'clock, and, after refueling, the party had planned to take off for Greenly Island. The snow had melted too much, however, and after two futile attempts, Balchen postponed the attempt until yesterday morning.

Yesterday at 5:30 o'clock, dawn had not arrived. The crew made ready for the start, and trouble clipped them once more. Now there was too much ice for the skis. The two wide sleds were frozen fast to the ground.

Though he has been ill with the grip he and Floyd Bennett flew from New York to Detroit Wednesday, Balchen did not give up. The motor chewed in great gulps of air under full throttle, but the ship did not budge.

A dozen men drew around, and willingly hopped to it. By 5 o'clock the plane was free. Still the trouble was just beginning.

Crammed into the plane, not specially built for long distance flights, but just a standard ship reconnoitered for this emergency, was a tremendous load, a little more than a ton under the load with which Byrd took off for France.

NEW EARTHQUAKES ROCK DEVASTATED CITY IN GREECE

16,000 Made Homeless in Corinth and on Isthmus in Second Destruction in 70 Years.

DEATH TOLL 30, WITH $780,000 DAMAGE

Residents Fled Hurriedly Without Clothing—Government and Red Cross Start Relief.

By the Associated Press.

ATHENS, April 24.—The devastated city of Corinth was rocked by two more earth shocks this morning, and Corinthians must seek homes elsewhere.

Four Greek ministers who went to the stricken district returned and said they considered the city ruined beyond repair. Reconstruction on the same site was considered impracticable, especially since this was the second time in 19 years that Corinth had been destroyed by an earthquake.

Sixteen thousand persons were homeless and destitute today on the Isthmus of Corinth. At least 30 persons were killed. Many were without clothes, for they had fled from their homes in terror when the first tremors occurred. This undoubtedly had prevented a large number of casualties.

Thirteen persons were killed in Corinth and 10,000 were homeless. The power house was destroyed and the town plunged in darkness.

Crevice 250 Feet Long.

At the nearby resort of Loutraki, 2000 persons lost their homes. The bathing establishment and the Electro-Therapeutic Institute were destroyed. A crevice 250 feet long was opened. At Kalmani, Poseidonia and elsewhere, 4000 were homeless.

The Government granted a credit of 5,000,000 drachmas ($15,000). The Greek Red Cross organized to aid the refugees and the American Red Cross offered to help. Relief work was undertaken by the Ministries of Finance, Interior and Communication, and the heads of these departments went to the devastated region.

The American School of Archaeology, which is engaged in excavating work at ancient Corinth, three miles from the ruined town, was only slightly damaged.

The total damage was estimated at 600,000,000 drachmas ($180,000). The Government sent 5000 tons and two steamers to serve as a temporary refuge for the homeless and destitute.

Gen. Metaxas, Minister of Communications, said nothing but a heap of ruins remained at Corinth. Not a single house could be repaired and those houses which threatened to collapse must be razed immediately. Many Corinthians desire to settle elsewhere and they will be granted free transportation by railroad.

The American Red Cross offered tents and medical supplies for 15,000 persons.

A submarine volcano like that of Santorin in the Cyclades is believed to have formed in the lagoon of Messolonghi, which forms part of the Gulf of Patras and the metropolis of Corinth and the Archbishop of Athens issued an appeal to the Greek people for aid to the stricken area.

Sinks to the Bottom.

As the earthquake laid waste to Corinth the telegraph operators there clicked out over and over again without ceasing the words: "Help! help! help! All is lost."

Remained heroically at his post in order to acquaint the outside world of Corinth's plight, the operator a few minutes later was buried alive by the collapse of the building in which he worked.

It Was All Over in Five Seconds.

Correspondent Writes.

LONDON, April 24.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily Express today gave the account of a witness of the havoc which Sunday's earthquake wrought at Corinth. The witness said preliminary shocks warned the people of the danger from their homes and gathered in groups as far as possible from the buildings. He continued: "Suddenly a reverberating shock threw us all off balance and we fell to the ground. Buildings trembled to the ground with a series of terrible crashes. It was all over in four or five seconds, but it seemed an eternity before we staggered to our feet again."

"Then the tumult and the women's cries gave place to a death-like silence. As we turned our eyes upon the city short circuits brought flashes from the electric lights that threw still glimmers upon the catastrophes. Instead of white walls there were squalid masses of ruins."

"The streets of the town are impassable. The work of searching the ruins for the dead will be tremendous."

RUSSIA AND ITALY OUTLAW POISON GAS

More Than 20 Nations Now Have Ratified Protocol, League Announces.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Publishing Publishing Co., New York World and Post-Dispatch.

GENEVA, April 24.—Russia and Italy have ratified the Burten protocol outlawing poison gas and germs in warfare, the League of Nations announces.

The protocol was forced into the international convention for the control of the arms traffic in 1925 by the American delegation after Representative Burton had read a cablegram from President Coolidge saying Washington would call a special conference for the purpose of prohibiting gas in war if the League did not act.

It was considered outside the scope of the treaty then being considered, but was included out of deference to Washington's insistence. The United States, however, has not ratified the treaty. The ratification of Italy and Russia brings the number of nations who have approved the protocol to more than 20.

Rhode Island's 10 Delegates Pledged to Smith.

By the Associated Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 24.—Rhode Island Democrats yesterday elected 10 delegates to the Houston convention, instructed to vote for Gov. Smith for President "to the last."

The slate is headed by National Committeeman Patrick H. Quinn.

British Want U. S. History.

LONDON, April 24.—A chair of American history has been proposed for University College, London University, to care for the demand of undergraduates. A committee has been established in London to work with a committee in America, of which John W. Davis, former United States Ambassador in London, is chairman.

No Women Senators for Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 24.—The Supreme Court of Canada decided today that women are not entitled to appointments to the Canadian Senate under the terms of the British North America Act.

GOOD BUTTER

Very soon now your boy will look life and success full in the face.
"No quarter" there. If he has it in him in stature, weight, vim
and vigor, due to what he eats
now, the battle will be half-won.
Like an automobile, no human
can go very far with a poor engine.

His hungry body demands food with the vital elements found in vitamins A and D: vitamin A
for height and weight; vitamin D for strong bones, sound teeth and a pleasing smile. These are the beneficial elements of radiant sunshine itself.
They have been captured and are yours in the form of "edible sunshine"—good butter.

A boy, or girl, who eats plenty of good butter
is particularly free from colds, anemia, rickets, undersize and underweight—impairments that seriously handicap when life with all its success
opportunities opens up.

In the making of Blue Valley Butter every scientific precaution is taken to retain these vital "sunshine" elements. The fine cream is individually selected and thoroughly pasteurized.

Every step is one of scientific precision. Quality and flavor are further protected by the triple-wrapped package which keeps the sunshine in.

LETS BOOTLEGGER OFF FOR BIRTHDAY PARTY

Judge Faris Gives Him 30 Days to Pay Fine—Many Plead Guilty.

The procession of bootleggers before Federal Judge Faris today
was interrupted so Merl Jackson, disabled war veteran, charged with possession of liquor in his roadhouse at 9300 St. Charles Rock road, and his lawyer, John Holmes,
could hurry home to celebrate Holmes' birthday.

"The Court, of course, would not stand in the way of a celebration
like that," said Judge Faris solemnly, when Holmes pleaded he was in a hurry and asked the Court to dispose of another case held over from yesterday.

Jackson was fined $400, but obtained a 30-day stay of the fine to permit him to raise the money. The other client, Freeman Cole of St.
Charles, was fined $280 for possession.

Of 25 defendants who pleaded guilty this morning, 14 were fined.
10 were sent to jail and one received both a fine and a jail sentence. One woman, Mrs. An A. Exas, proprietor of a restaurant at 3348
Iowa avenue, was fined $400 for possession.

Judge Faris exhausted available facilities for Federal prisoners in the Warren County Jail at Warrenton and started sentencing defendants to the Montgomery City jail.

Joseph Gilsinn, 1101 Cass avenue, charged with sale of liquor,
told the court he was not a bartender by trade but had stepped behind the bar temporarily to relieve the sick bartender, his friend,
when prohibition agents arrested him.

"You get the first prize for an accommodating friend as well as 40 days in jail," commented the Court.

Other fines and jail sentences
were: Morris Feldman, 3146 Pine street, possession, $440; Edward Popp, Grand boulevard and Shenandoah avenue, possession, $440;

Watch Children's Health in Spring

Unsettled weather, indoor confinement, and lack of sunshine prompted Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Health Commissioner, Chicago, Ill., to issue this warning to all parents:

"Every child over one month of age should be given cod liver oil
daily as a food."

And now, with that disagreeable fishy flavor all removed,
youngsters lick the spoon and ask for more Coco Cod. For Coco Cod's a real cod liver oil, with every vitalizing vitamin of the pure oil,
but with a rich chocolate taste that every youngster loves.

Remember, Coco Cod is a food, not a drug. Recommended by health authorities and used by dietitians. Do you wonder that a million households now use Coco Cod?

Any druggist can supply Coco Cod.

A postal will bring one of the

Even Boiled Rice Hurt Girl's Stomach

"I had indigestion so bad I couldn't eat even rice. Adlerika has done me so much good that now I can eat anything and feel fine."—Miss A. H.
The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, saline, etc. (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. First, it acts on BOTTLE upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only)
and removes foul matter that often poisons the system for months.
Second, Adlerika clears all GAS and sourness from stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons
which cause neuritis, rheumatism,
etc.
Dr. H. L. Shoup, New York, N. Y., writes: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and bacteria."
Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 30 years practice, I have found nothing so effective as Adlerika." J. E. Puckett: "After taking erika, I feel better than for years. A few impurities were allotted."
It will astonish you the amounts of poisonous matter
erika brings out—matter you never believe was in your system. In chronic constipation, ing, sour stomach and indigestion, just ONE spoonful brings wonderful relief. At druggists. Sold in St. Louis Wolff-Willson Drug Store and druggists.

FORISTEL COMES OUT FOR SIDENER FOR RE-ELECTION

Koeln's Lieutenant's Stand Gives Color to Story of Secret Deal for G. O. P. Organization's Support.

DENIES RAISING FUND OF $10,000

None of Other Possibilities for Circuit Attorneyship Has Had Encouragement of Party Bosses.

A statement today by Edward W. Foristel, attorney and political lieutenant of City Collector Edmund Koeln, that he favors the reelection of Circuit Attorney Howard Sidener, gives credence to the story now going the rounds at the city hall of a secret alignment of Republican organization leaders behind Sidener.

Talk several weeks ago that the "party bosses" were hunting a strong candidate to oppose Sidener is now construed by political observers as the ancient hokum put forth to scare prospective candidates off and soothe the uneasiness among citizens who might initiate a popular movement to bring out an able candidate.

When asked today by a Post-Dispatch reporter if he had made any personal choice as to the Circuit Attorneyship, Foristel said promptly: "I am inclined to favor Sidener." The reporter inquired whether Foristel had considered former Congressman Cleveland Newton and Walter J. G. Neun, president of the Board of Aldermen, whose names had been mentioned confidentially by prominent politicians as likely opponents of Sidener.

Denies Raising $10,000 Fund.

"Sidener makes as good a prosecutor as either of the men you mentioned," Foristel declared. "Yes, I favor Sidener. I not only favor Sidener, but I favor giving his office $20,000 a year more to enlarge his staff. I don't see how he ever convicts anybody with the staff he has and the shortage of funds."

Foristel was asked about a current rumor that he and Oliver T. Remmers, chairman of the Republican City Committee, and Collector Koeln had agreed to raise a $10,000 fund for Sidener's campaign.

"Say, I wouldn't put up $10,000 for all the Circuit Attorneys in St. Louis for the next 49 years," Foristel replied. "That's the bunk."

Chairman Remmers was circumspect and non-committal when asked if a genuine fight was to be made on Sidener and if the organization honestly desired to bring out another candidate for the Circuit Attorneyship.

"I am not unduly mindful of the situation," Chairman Remmers said. "I have not discussed it with members of the Committee. So far as I know there is no organized effort for or against Mr. Sidener in the Committee. At the appropriate time I will make my personal position clear."

Collector Koeln is out of town. Looks Like Old Camouflage.

The attitude of prospective Republican candidates for Circuit Attorney appears to bear out the suspicion that G. O. P. political leaders are making no effort whatever to encourage a strong candidate to file against Sidener. Former Congressman Newton said flatly he wished to continue his law practice and would not consider making the race. Neun said that numerous friends but no political leaders had made overtures to him and he is inclined, personally, not to seek the office but to remain on the Board of Aldermen.

Police Commissioner Arthur J. Freund is considering the matter seriously, but would need assurance of definite support before resigning from the Police Board to run for Circuit Attorney, as would be necessary. State Senator William Maffitt Baker is thinking seriously of getting into the race but wishes to sound out sentiment further before deciding.

In the face of this watchful waiting Foristel's outspoken endorsement of Sidener does not jibe at all with reports that the party bosses are seeking a man to run against Sidener.
